LODGE AFFAIRS

Past Councillors of the Daughters of America met at the country home of Mrs. S. T. Shroyer, Wednesday, June 28, for a covered dish dinner. Mrs. Hugh Patten and Mrs. Ada Shank gave readings, which were followed by contests. Nineteen members were present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Foster, north Main street.

Mrs. Zeppo Marx
Helene Costello
Mae West
Betty Compson

While still suffering from the shock of being robbed of $37,000 worth of jewelry five months ago, Mrs. Zeppo Marx, wife of one of the four famous movie comedians, was given reason to doubt the truth of the old maxim about lightning not striking twice in the same place. A brace of daring gunmen, gaining admittance to the Marx home in Hollywood, tied up the comedian's servants, forced Zeppo and Mrs. Marx into a clothes closet and decamped with nearly $30,000 worth of gems. Police believe that the perpetrators of the robbery are of the same gang that robbed Helene Costello, of the film sisters, of $30,000 in jewels last year, and took $5,000 in jeweled baubles from Mae West, the "Diamond Lil" of stage and screen. Betty Compson, who was held up and robbed of $41,500 last January, was luckier than the others, for the loot was mysteriously returned some days after the robbery.

refusal on the part of some delegates to tell their countrymen the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth for fear they might lose their jobs. There is, however, a very marked difference of interest and policy between some of the nations foregathered. Those remaining on the gold standard view the situation one way, and those who have left the gold standard see it another way. But definite as the differences are, I am not convinced they are irreconcilable if the entire conference would face the facts with patience and courage.

But that doesn't seem to be on the calendar. Too many are satisfied to call it a day and leave but two questions open—

Who killed cock robin?

Who'll be the goat?

At the moment, even after a more conciliatory message from Washington, the conspicuous effort is to indict President Roosevelt for the homicide and make him wear the horns.

Even those who claim to understand his reasoning and sympathize with it are terribly fussy about the tone of his message. Agreeing that a little rhetorical cocaine might have made it easier to take, I can't run a temperature about we are just a step-brother.

The steering committee meets this morning, having read America's latest message, it carried the well-known Roosevelt smile; nevertheless it added to rather than took anything from his first in substance and kick.

Then comes the big decision as to whether they will pull down the shutters for the Summer or hang out the auctioneer's red flag.

If the dear old conference is willed to anyone there will be no inheritance tax to pay.

However, it can't be said to have been a complete failure because Latvia (whether you have heard of it or not) has agreed to buy from England three times as many herrings as she did last year. If you don't think that makes it kosher, you're too hard to please.

Order for the Administration of Baptism to Infants.

The Minister, coming to the Font, which is to be filled with pure Water, shall use the following:

DEARLY BELOVED, forasmuch as God in his great mercy hath entered into covenant relation with man, wherein he hath included children as partakers of its gracious benefits; and our Lord Jesus Christ saith: Suffer the little children to come unto me; forbid them not: for to such belongeth the kingdom of God; I beseech you to call upon God the Father, through our Lord Jesus Christ, that having, of his bounteous mercy, redeemed this child by the blood of his Son, he will grant that he, being baptized with water, may also be baptized with the Holy Spirit, be received into Christ's holy Church, and become a lively Member of the same.

Then shall the Minister say:

Let us pray.

Almighty and Everlasting God, who by thy well-beloved Son Jesus Christ gavest commandment to go into all the world and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit; we beseech thee, that of thine infinite mercy thou wilt look upon this child: that he, being saved by thy grace, and received into Christ's holy Church, may be steadfast in faith, joyful through hope, and rooted in love, and may so overcome all evil that finally he may reign with thee, world without end, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then shall the Minister address the Parents or other Sponsors as followeth:

Dearly Beloved, forasmuch as this child is now presented by you for Christian Baptism, and is thus consecrated to God and to his Church, it is your part and duty to see that he be taught, as soon as he shall be able to learn, the nature and end of this Holy Sacrament; that he shall read the Holy Scriptures and learn the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments, the Apostles' Creed, and the Catechism; and that he be instructed in the principles of our Holy Faith and the nature of the Christian life. And ye shall call upon him to give reverent attendance upon the appointed means of grace, such as the ministry of the Word, and the public and private worship of God; and that in every way, by precept and example, ye shall seek to lead him into the love of God and the service of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Do you therefore solemnly engage to fulfill these duties, so far as in you lies, the Lord being your helper?

Answer. We do.

Then shall the People stand up, and the Minister shall say:

Hear the words of the Gospel written by St. Mark.
[Chap. 10. 13-16.]

And they were bringing unto him little children, that he should touch them: and the disciples rebuked them.

But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me; forbid them not: for to such belongeth the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein. And he took them in his arms, and blessed them, laying his hands upon them.

Then the Minister may take the Child in his arms, and say to the Parents or other Sponsors:

What name shall be given to this child?

And then, naming it after them, he shall baptize it, saying:

N., I baptize thee in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Then shall the Minister offer the following Prayer, the People kneeling:

O God of infinite mercy, be pleased to grant unto this child an understanding mind and a sanctified heart. May thy providence lead him through the dangers, temptations, and ignorance of his youth, that he may never run into folly, nor into the evils of an unbridled appetite. We pray thee so to order the course of his life that, by good education, by holy examples, and by thy restraining and renewing grace, he may be led to serve thee faithfully all his days, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Almighty and Most Merciful Father, grant unto these, thy servants, the parents [sponsors] of this child, thy Holy Spirit, that they may command their household to keep the way of the Lord; that their whole family may be united to our Lord Jesus Christ in the bonds of faith, obedience, and charity; and that they all, being in this life thy holy children, may be admitted into the Church of the first born in heaven, through the merits of thy Son, our Saviour and Redeemer. Amen.

Then may the Minister offer extemporary Prayer.

Then shall be said by the Minister and People,
all kneeling:

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

To the Parents.

Dear Parents. Your child has this day been dedicated by you to the Lord in Christian baptism according to the usages of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

We hold that all children by virtue of the unconditional benefits of the atonement are members of the kingdom of God, and therefore graciously entitled to baptism; but as infant baptism contemplates a course of religious instruction and discipline, it is expected of all parents or guardians who present their children for baptism, that they will use all diligence in bringing them up in conformity with the Word of God.

We regard children who have been baptized as placed in visible covenant relation to God, and under the special care and supervision of the Church. When they shall understand the obligations of religion, and shall give evidence of piety, they may be admitted into Full Membership in the Church upon the recommendation of the leader of a class in which they have met for at least six months. The Discipline provides that classes of baptized children shall be formed for religious instruction in every church. These classes are sometimes conducted in connection with the Junior Epworth League.

Thus you will see that the Church expects to do its part in the religious education of its children. To be effective this must be supplemented by the Christian training of the home. I trust this will not be overlooked or neglected by you. In presenting your child for Christian baptism you have promised that he should read the Holy Scriptures, and learn the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments, the Apostles' Creed, the Catechism, and all things that a Christian ought to know and believe. All these except the Catechism will be found in this book.

May God graciously help you and help the Church to lay well the foundation for a noble Christian character in the child you have this day dedicated to Him.

Faithfully, YOUR PASTOR.

Edward H. Roberts,
~~Pastor.~~

Superintendent,
Springfield District,
Ohio Conference.

To the Baptized Child.

My dear Child. Before you were old enough to act for yourself in such matters, your parents dedicated you to God in Christian baptism. You were thus early in life brought into membership in the Church and your name inscribed upon our Church record among the baptized children. When you are old enough to understand these obligations you may be received at once into Full Membership in the Church upon meeting the requirements and answering publicly the questions provided for by the Discipline, and which will be found on page 14 of this manual.

I trust that you may early learn to really love your Church and the blessed Christ which the Church represents. We learn to love people only when we become acquainted with them and see in them that which is attractive and worthy of our love. You will learn to love Christ and the Church in the same way. If you will study the life and teachings of Christ as recorded in the Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, and the history and doctrines of our Methodism, I am sure you will soon learn to love them both.

As early as possible I hope you will learn the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments, the Apostles' Creed, and the Ten Doctrines of Grace, which you will find in this book, and which includes the fundamental principles of our Church belief.

I am praying that God will keep you ever pure and true to Him and to your Church, and that you may be a happy Christian, and a very useful member of the Church throughout your entire life.

Sincerely your pastor,

The Ten Commandments.

I. Thou shalt have no other gods before me.

II. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth; thou shalt not bow down thyself to them nor serve them; for I, the Lord thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

III. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.

IV. Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work; but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates; for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day; wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day, and hallowed it.

V. Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

VI. Thou shalt not kill.

VII. Thou shalt not commit adultery.

VIII. Thou shalt not steal.

IX. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.

X. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his man-servant, nor his maid-servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbor's.

The Lord's Prayer.

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

The Apostles' Creed.

I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth; and in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; the third day he rose from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Ghost; the holy catholic Church;*

*By "the holy catholic Church" is meant the church of God in general.

the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting. Amen.

The Ten Doctrines of Grace.

I. I believe that all men are sinners.

II. I believe that God the Father loves all men and hates all sin.

III. I believe that Jesus Christ died for all men to make possible their salvation from sin, and to make sure the salvation of all who believe in Him.

IV. I believe that the Holy Spirit is given to all men to enlighten and to incline them to repent of their sin and to believe in the Lord Jesus Christ.

V. I believe that all who repent of their sins and believe in the Lord Jesus Christ receive the forgiveness of sin. (This is justification.)

VI. I believe that all who receive the forgiveness of sin are at the same time made new creatures in Christ Jesus. (This is regeneration.)

VII. I believe that all who are made new creatures in Christ Jesus are accepted as the children of God. (This is adoption.)

VIII. I believe that all who are accepted as the children of God may receive the inward assurance of the Holy Spirit to that fact. (This is the witness of the Spirit.)

IX. I believe that all who truly desire and seek it, may love God with all their heart and soul, mind and strength, and their neighbors as themselves. (This is entire sanctification.)

X. I believe that all who persevere to the end, and only those, shall be saved in heaven forever. (This is the true final perseverance.)

Form for Receiving Persons into the Church from Preparatory Membership after Required Instruction Has Been Given.

On the day appointed, all that are to be received into the Church shall be called forward, and the Minister, addressing the Congregation, shall say:

DEARLY BELOVED, the Scriptures teach us that the Church is the household of God, the body of which Christ is the head; and that it is the design of the gospel to bring together in one all who are in Christ. The end of this fellowship is the salvation of men and the establishment of the kingdom of God upon earth. As helps thereto the Church is charged with the maintenance of sound doctrine and of the ordinances of Christian worship, and with the exercise of that power of godly admonition and discipline which Christ has committed to her for the promotion of holiness. The duties of those united in this fellowship are to continue steadfast in the faith and practice of the gospel; to promote the peace and unity of the Church; to labor for the spread of love and righteousness; and by word and deed to bring others into the fold of Jesus Christ.

Into this holy fellowship the persons before you, who have already received the sacrament of Baptism and have been under instruction in the doctrines of Holy Scripture as taught by the Methodist Episcopal Church, come seeking admission. We now propose, in the fear of God, to question them as to their faith and purposes, that you may know that they are proper persons to be admitted into the Church.

Then, addressing the Persons seeking Admission, the Minister shall say:

Dearly Beloved, you are come hither seeking the great privilege of union with the Church our Saviour has purchased with his own blood. We rejoice in the grace of God vouchsafed unto you in that he has called you to be his followers, and that thus far you have run well. You have heard how solemn are the duties of membership in Christ's Church; and before you are fully admitted thereto, it is proper that you do here publicly renew your vows, confess your faith, and declare your purpose, by answering the following questions:

Do you here, in the presence of God and of this Congregation, renew the solemn promise contained in the Baptismal Covenant, ratifying and confirming the same, and acknowledging yourselves bound faithfully to observe and keep that Covenant?

Answer. I do.

Do you receive Jesus Christ as your Saviour, and do you confess him as your Lord and Master?

Answer. I do.

Do you receive and profess the Christian Faith as contained in the New Testament of our Lord Jesus Christ?

Answer. I do.

Will you be loyal to the Methodist Episcopal Church, and uphold it by your prayer, your presence, your gifts and your service?

Answer. I will.

Then, the Candidates kneeling, the Minister shall say:

Defend, O Lord, these thy servants with thy heavenly grace; that they may continue thine forever; and daily increase in thy Holy Spirit, more and more, until they come unto thy everlasting kingdom. Amen.

Then the Minister, extending the right hand of fellowship, shall say to the Candidates:

We welcome you to the communion of the Church of God; and, in testimony of our Christian affection and the cordiality with which we receive you, I hereby extend to you the right hand of fellowship: and may God grant that you may be a faithful and useful Member of the Church militant till you are called to the fellowship of the Church triumphant, which is "without fault before the throne of God."

Dear Lucy,

Thank you for coming to House Church Thursday, It was good to have you here! Don was a little stumbly which is most unusual but he has been here at least five times in a row filling in for others. We like to learn from Don. Please come again!

Thank you also for the thoughtfulness and pretty hand made birthday card. That was nice of you!

HAPPY ♥ HOLIDAYS

There is a list of folks we know all written in a book,
And every year at Christmas time we go and take a look,
And that is when we realize that these names are a part
Not of the book they're written in but of our very own heart.

For each name stands for someone who has touched our lives sometime,
And in that meeting they've become the "Rhythm of the Rhyme"
We really feel is composed of each remembered name,
And while you may not be aware of feeling quite the same
Our lives are so much better than it was before you came.

For once that you have known someone, the years cannot erace
The memory of a pleasant word or of a friendly face
So never think our Christmas cards are just a mere routine of Names upon a list, forgotten in between.
For when we send a Christmas Card that is Addressed to you
It is because you are on that list of folks we are indebted to,

And whether we've known you for many years or a few
In some way you have had a part in shaping things we do.
So erery year when Christmas comes we just realize anew,
The biggest gift that God can give is knowing folks like you".

Fondly –

My fondest rememberence as a child was "Going to Grandma's House".

My Father died when I was 6 months old so his Mother,my special Grandma,spent extra time with me . She would tell me stories of my Daddy when he was little . We made scrapebooks from old magazines, I helped put the garden in and just made a pest of myself...I guess.

The brightest time was taking the school bus from in town out to Grandma's in the winter.We would go out to the big ditch across the road and dig down (making tunnels) then collecting CLEAN snow in a large dishpan. We would then go into the house where she had made taffy and popcorn,I loved to pour the taffy into the snow and get it hard, then roll it in the popcorn,eat and listen to the good radio programs by lamp light till time to go to the feather bed !

My Grandma was a saint on earth and I truly believe she is my guardian angel.She has been gone since 1954 and I still miss her.

Dear Lucy,

So sorry to hear that you and Buster can't go to Texas. I do hope that he will get better FAST! Bronchitis isn't too good for him...or anyone !

I went with Aaron to Sam's club to get him stuff to take back to his apt at college on Sunday. I didn't have to do too much...he drove and carried all the stuff. It was good to get out of the house again!

I am feeling really pretty good. My dismissal papers said that in 48 hours I could do anything that I felt up to doing...but the kids thought that 48 meant for each catheraziation!...!!! They are extra protective. Which I really do appreciate....but I won't just sit, that to would be detremental. the doctor didn't think that I should sit in the car for 4-5 hours to ride up to Zion..but my leg is doing well...not even a very big black and blue spot for having 4 in one leg and 1 in the left! They said that I healed too fast for the by-passes to work right! Ever hear of that? In 98% of the by-passes they work okay. ...I had to be one of the 2%..that figures, huh? We were made of unusual stuff, huh? Anyway, the spot that was 99% closed off has had a stint put in...the 56% stopped up area was at a "Y" and so only a balloon deal was used...the other spot was totally closed by this time and could not be opened. I go back to the doctor on Tuesday.. They said if it works for a month...I may get by. I wonder what percentages that is?

I heard from Paula...the CAT scans and tests showed that the cancer in the liver has DECREASED some...she didn't say how much...this is the first time since June of 2001 ! BUT the node in the lung increased .5 centameters..not very much...but we feel that isn't good. They are using the same chemo this time, since the liver tumor is down. Her friend Susan Grobschmidt took a week's vacation from her job to go with her.. isn't that a GREAT thing to do? Susan is the one who lost her 5 yr old girl on a 3-wheeler accident about 3-4 years ago....over by Grabill...where they live.

Aaron was home this week on spring break so it worked out fine for me.

Talk to you later.

Love, Pauline

Lucy,

THANKS FOR YOUR DONATION TO THE GOLF OUTING. WE HAD A GREAT DAY AND WERE ABLE TO RAISE SOME MONEY FOR THE SCHOOL IN MEDINA, SIERRA LEONE, AFRICA & THE LOCAL HABITAT FOR HUMANITY.

Nostalgia by Nedra

by Nedra Krider

This week I'll go over a few more things I remember that we enjoyed in the summer when I was a young girl.

For one whole week the Redpath Chitauqua players would come to town, pitch a huge tent right north of the fire station (before there were houses there) and put on really fine dramatic and musical plays.

We always looked forward to them coming because it was very different from the usual. I remember the costumes were quite elaborate and beautiful, something different every night.

A second type of entertainment, once a year, was the Medicine Show that was held in the Opera House on the second floor of the old Churubusco State Bank building on the corner of Line and Whitley streets. They had a sort of vaudeville type show and would stop several times during their show to sell some of their magic medicine that was promised to cure everything from corns to dandruff on your head -- and all for one dollar a bottle!

We also used to have our own high school musicals and senior plays in the Opera House. I had my first leading part in "Maid of the Mill," a musical, and I had such dreams of becoming a real star. Oh well, it was fun to dream! We even had to make our own scenery. The drug store would give us samples and odds and ends of wallpaper so we could paper the backdrops. They usually didn't match, but they were clean and different each time. Our costumes were found in trunks in people's attics.

I'm always so pleased when someone says, "When are you going to write about?..." A few days ago I met Lucille (Keller) Green, one of my former second graders and she wanted to know when I was going to write about some of the families who used to live on Main Street many years ago.

So here goes: I'll start first with Don McBride's family at 718 Main, I think that's his number, it's the third house on the east side on the north end of Main Street.

I couldn't find all the house numbers, but I'll do my best. Walter Raypole, his wife, Emma, and his daughter, Evelyn, lived next door at 716 Main. Walter was once a rural mail carrier in the 1920's! Margaret and Dale Sprouls built a new house next to Raypole's at 708 Main. Margaret was my bridesmaid in 1932.

Now we arrive at 620 North Main where Lucille Keller lived with her mother, sisters, and brother. But oh dear, I missed the Zinns, who lived at 624 Main -- that would be Jim and Kate and their two daughters, Norma and Eloise.

Lucille Keller remembers that she always liked to walk uptown and stop by and Jerome (Krider) would give her some peppermint candy if he happened to be outside working in the yard. Nice memory, thanks Lucille!

Red Cross baby-sitting class scheduled

The American Red Cross of Northeast Indiana will hold a baby-sitting class in Churubusco Saturday, January 27, from 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m. at Churubusco Community Childcare Center.

The course will teach students how to handle emergency situations and how to care for children of all ages. Participants will also learn how to ask the right questions to understand parental expectations.

Participants must be 10 years of age and must bring a child's toy to class. Pre-registration and pre-payment are required. Cost is $20. All students who successfully complete the course will receive an American Red Cross certificate and baby-sitting business cards.

For additional information or to register, call the Red Cross at 248-8132, Ext. 240.

The American Red Cross of Northwest Indiana is a United Way agency.

"Tis the Season for Cabin Fever"

Cabin fever is a common malady that one dictionary describes as "uneasiness due to lack of environmental stimulation." A briefer description might be boredom."

This time of the year the hustle and bustle of the holidays is past. The festive decorations of the season have been packed away for next year. I tend to drag decorations out a few at a time, beginning the week after Thanksgiving until Christmas. They are mostly stationary until New Years. Once they are all removed and packed away the house takes on a barren, ransacked appearance for a few days.

There are endless cures for this Cabin Fever, short of taking a cruise to the Bahamas or a Hawaii beach trip. The annual seed catalogs have begun to arrive and avid gardners can spend hours browsing and planning for spring. Even though I no longer garden actively, I find claims made by seed producing companies fascinating. Just like every other business they are constantly coming up with new hybrids, etc. that will produce wonders. Of course, any good gardner knows it takes more than sowing the seeds---lots of weeding and

Youth to Serve SOUPER Lunch Sunday

Hey football fans! Pump up for the big game by lunching with the youth on this Sunday, January 28th. The menu includes chili, subs, cookies and pop for a suggested donation of $3. Delicious!

Soups on at 11:00, so plan to join your friends in Raasch Hall before or after the 11:00 a.m. worship hour. If you're in a hurry, carry out is also available.

All proceeds will help fund youth events for '96. Please sign up at the youth bulletin board in the hallway outside Raasch if you plan to attend. See you there!

Traci Hosfield Arrives in Nepal in February

Traci left the country on January 7th for two weeks of training in Frankfurt, Germany then on to London for two more weeks of additional training. She would love to have letters waiting for her upon her arrival in Nepal. Her address is P.O. Box 26, Kathmandu, Nepal.

When you write there are a couple important things to remember.

1) Do not refer to her as a missionary or her presence as a mission. She is officially a language student.

2) Expressions of faith, encouragement and Biblical references are appropriate but should be mentioned as a personal expression and not to suggest that Traci has been officially sent.

3) Do not make reference to Operation Mobilization on the envelope or in the letter. The government can and does open and read mail.

Nepal is the only official Hindu state in the world. They are not all together friendly towards missionaries. We want to follow these guidelines for Traci's safety and continued presence in the country. Pray for Traci as she adjusts to life so far from home.

Vision 2000

A Day for Celebrating God's Vision for the Church

Q: What is Vision 2000?

A: Vision 2000 is an event that will be held for all United Methodists in the north half of Indiana — including those at Good Shepherd — to inspire and encourage us to grasp God's vision for our church!

Q: When will it be held, and where?

A: Saturday, March 30, from 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m., at the University of Notre Dame, Convocation Center, in South Bend.

Q: Who is it for?

A: All adults, and youth in middle school and high school. The youth going through confirmation at Good Shepherd will be attending this event as a part of their process of completing confirmation.

Q: What will happen at Vision 2000?

A: There will be special speakers, including Dr. Joe Harding, Bishop Woodie White, and Don Moen of Integrity Music as Worship Leader. In addition, there will be a mass choir of 500+ voices, including several members of Good Shepherd's Sanctuary Choir. It is anticipated to be a great day of celebration, rejoicing and inspiration!

Q: What is the cost?

A: The cost for the event is $5 per person. Those attending will need money for meals as well. Plans will be made to car pool for this event.

Q: What is our goal?

A: From Good Shepherd, we hope to have over 100 persons in attendance. It will be a tremendous, one-of-a-kind opportunity to celebrate with thousands of United Methodist Christians from across the northern half of Indiana! Make your plans now to attend!

PRESCHOOL REGISTRATION

Good Shepherd Preschool will begin registering students for the 1996-97 school year on Saturday, Feb. 3rd, from 8:00-9:30 a.m. All church members are welcome to register at that time, or during regular school hours beginning Feb. 5th. Classes are filled on a first-come first-served basis.

The preschool offers classes for children ages 2 to 5 years old. Brochures may be found on the preschool bulletin board next to the education office, or call the school office, 483-6454, for more information.

SUPPER CLUB TO ATTEND CIVIC THEATER

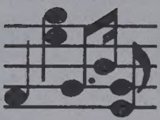
On March 2nd the Supper Club will be attending the Civic production of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat." Persons not on the Supper Club mailing list who would like to attend, may call Paulette Ross at 486-6149 to reserve a ticket. Cost is $12 and tickets must be reserved before Feb. 1st.

COMING SOON!
Movie Night

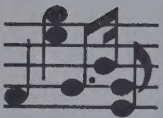
All Seniors (those 55+) are invited to the church for a free movie and popcorn. Come to the Room 144, the Youth Room, also known as "The Pit", on Tuesday, January 30th from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m. If you'd like a ride, please call Deb Miteff at the church, 483-8816, in advance.

New Member's
Together in Christ
Class to Start

Persons interest in exploring membership with Good Shepherd are invited to attend the winter session of Together in Christ. The four session class begins Sunday, January 28th and will meet in Room 133 from 6:00-7:30 p.m. Child care is provided on request. Contact Jackie or Sally Smith, 483-8816, if you have questions.



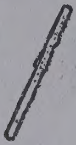
Music Notes

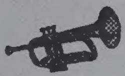


The Spring Festival Choir will begin rehearsal Wednesday, January 31st at 7:30 to prepare the worship musical "God with Us" for presentation in March. This exciting and very singable musical features favorite contemporary worship choruses for choir, orchestra, soloists and the congregation.

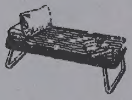
The Good Shepherd Festival Choir will be joined by the St. Joseph UM Choir for a presentation in each of the churches. Those whose schedule allow will also travel to Notre Dame on March 30 to sing "God With Us" in a mass choir of over 500 singers for the Vision 2000 rally.

Watch the bulletin and future newsletters for more information, or call Dennis Campbell at the church, 483-8816, or at home, 745-1697, for more details.





Any students who would like to play their ISMAA instrumental piece for worship are invited to call Dennis Campbell at the church, 483-8816, to schedule an opportunity.



Thanks to those who have volunteered to house a member or two of the Northwestern College Choir on Saturday night, February 24th. A few more beds are needed. Call Carolyn Chase at 471-0340 if you are able to help.

Update on Gambling Petitions

The church received a letter from Governor Bayh's office acknowledging receipt of the petitions requesting a referendum on any further expansion of gambling. The governor voiced his opposition to any further expansion of gambling but suggested that concerned citizens voice their opposition to the state senators and representatives as well since the decision will be made by the state legislature.

The little "Bunny" romper you sent Avery is just adorable. She looks precious in it. The darling headband looks so cute too – it also helps people know that she's a girl (little baldy bean at this stage - but still beautiful in our eyes.) Of course, she stays snuggly warm in the stretchies →

Dr. Priddy/aed/7-14-93

Lester Green - AGE: 63 - HT: 5'11" - WT: 172 - BP: 138/88

P: The patient comes in for a complete physical.

S: He has been having some trouble with a little gastroenteritis. He also has had some increased fatigue. He has had about a 3 lb additional weight loss.

O: The patient is a 63-year-old male. He is 5'11" tall. He weighs 172 lbs. His blood pressure is 138/88. It later dropped all the way to 126/82.

? EAR, NOSE AND THROAT: Both ears intact. Not bulging. He had a lot of wax in his ears, which was washed out, revealing a normal appearing eardrum. Drums bilaterally: there is no scarring and there is no bulging of the eardrums and no inflammation of the eardrums.

EYES: The eyes were negative to examination. The patient's vision is 20/20 in the left eye and 20/25 in the right eye with correcting lenses. The pupils were reactive to light and accommodation. No extraocular reflex seemed intact. The eye grounds were negative.

NOSE: The nose was okay. The patient does have a little amount of nasal congestion but he works in a dusty and smoky atmosphere all of the time. He does much of his own mechanical work in his garage.

Own Teeth!!

MOUTH: The mouth revealed a minimal post-nasal drip. The dentures fit fairly good. There was somewhat of a fettered breath. No abnormalities were found there.

? NECK: The neck was supple. No bruits were heard in the neck on either side. The carotid arteries and thyroid arteries seemed normal. The thyroid itself is not enlarged. No nodules were palpated at the thyroid. There is some subclavicular adenopathy found.

CHEST: The chest is symmetrical, but I felt was slightly increased in AP diameter. The patient is still a smoker. He has dulls of flatness to percussion over the lower half of his lungs. He has decreased breath sounds in the lower half of his lung fields. He has hyper edge to percussion over the upper half of his lung fields. I feel he has developed a fairly severe emphysema and COPD, both.

HEART: His heart is minimally enlarged. The PMI and the fourth inner space at approximately 2 centimeters left of the mid clavicular line. No murmurs or thrills were lisited. An EKG was done and showed he had some non-specific ST segs and changes in his first 3 chest leads. Consequently, the patient is scheduled for a stress Thallium test with Fort Wayne Cardiologists.

ABDOMEN: His abdomen was very muscular. No abnormalities or masses were palpated. The liver, spleen and kidneys were not thought to be remarkable. No bruits were heard in the abdomen.

GENITALIA: The external genitalia were normal. The proctosigmoid exam up to approximately 7" revealed some internal hemorrhoids and some slight edema.

EXTREMITIES: The patient still has a scar over his right knee which was operated on because of torn knee cartilage. He has some stiffness of all of his lower extremities due to osteoarthritis, but nothing serious. He is a very active physical individual. There were no peripheral pulses felt below the popliteal pulses on each side of the lower extremity. I feel that part of his trouble is that he is smoking so much he is causing trouble here.

BACK: Examination revealed nothing significant here. However, he does have an increased APM down over his chest. The hemoccult test was negative and the prostate exam was also thought to be negative.

A:
1. FAIRLY SEVERE EMPHYSEMA AND COPD.
2. DECREASED PERIPHERAL PULSES OF THE LOWER EXTREMITY.
3. MILDLY ABNORMAL EKG.
4. HISTORY OF CARTILAGE REMOVAL ON THE RIGHT KNEE.
5. WE ALSO FOUND A POSSIBLE MASS ON THE RIGHT FLANK AREA OF THE ABDOMEN.

PLAN:
1. The patient is getting an IVP and lower GI series.
2. He is being scheduled for stress Thallium test.
3. He is being sent to the lab for a comprehensive health physical, thyroid profile and a PSA.
4. We will treat further if there are any problems found there.

To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Lester Green

Mr. Green is a patient of mine who presented with the complaint of chest pain, a complete physical exam was done and labs ordered. This was necessary in order to determine the course of treatment for this patient.

Enclosed please find a copy of the office dictation for that date of service.

Please reconsider the lab charges for this physical as they were not routine but a necessary tool in determing treatment for this gentleman.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Yours truly,

Marvin E. Priddy MD

I knew you would want the latest report on Jack. I am leaving for Guadalajara on Saturday, August 4.

I talked with both Vivian and Jack yesterday and Jack was doing well. His voice sounded stronger and he is so happy to be home.

Hi! Our flight in the litle plane was wonderful, and fast. We were hoping dad could make it safe till Guadalajara, 'cause he was getting worse by the minute. All he wanted was to get home!! & Thank God, we made it.!! I prayed all the way.
Juan was waiting for us at the airport, & Victor went back on the same plane to finish packing, etc. etc. I t was a hell of a lot of work, & the moving people got there at 9;30 am, instead of 12:00. As usual, Patricia got in late, & Victor was going crazy, calling me every 20 mins.
Last nite, dad was very bad, The Dr. came to check on him at the house, stabilized him, gave the male nurse all the indications, spoke to me for a while, & left. Can you believe after the dr left, he wanted to eat??? soup, cup of tea, coockies,. Transformed himself into another person.
Today he had a nice big breakfast,; went to the dinning room in his motorized wheel-cahir, & ate w/us. Had soup for dinner.
He did not sleep so much today, & was not in bed a s much either,

Victor just called on the Nextel, to let me know he had passed the 2 ck points OK, to make reservations in a Hotel in Chihuahua (11;30 or time, 10:30pm El Paso). He will be arriving in about 3 more hours. I begged him to stay until tomorrow, but he wanted to get here as fast as possible.

Lore got back from Camp today, & called me. She was very happy, & happier because she is comming home, too. Doesn't know dad is sick. She will be arriving Tuesday nite; Patricia Friday nite; & aunt Beth, Saturday noon.
Sunday is dad's birthday, & will be having a party for him.
Wicha & Victor will be back from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil on thursday.

I will pick Vittorio up tomorrow Sat. noon at his other gradmas' house & will be spending the week end here. See how we manage???!!!! Dad wants to see Vittorio, too.

Well, you have no idea how blessed I am of having such a wonderful american family. (You met Kim) & all my american cousins are just like him,(Lonnie, David, Laurel, Marybeth,& Michael, & their families) plus you Sonya, Bill & family.

You have no idea how happy & blessed I felt since I met you & Bill, & how much you helped, not only my Dad, but ME.

Thanks for everything, & don't think I will forget you,

Luv yu,
Vivian

Grandma,

Thank you for all of the Christmas gifts including the blue earrings, $25.00 American Eagle Gift Card, $25.00 Hollister Gift Card, and the $25.00 Dicks Gift Card. With the American Eagle Gift card I bought a really cute pair of jeans and with the Hollister gift card I bought a really cute dark blue Hollister Shirt. I am very excited to go to Dicks and get some new running gear to keep me warm during the cold. Thank you so much for all of the gifts and I hope that you have a great rest of 2007. I love you tons!

Love with all my heart,
Kelsey

Thank you very much for the Crank movie, I've already watched it, the Walmart gift cards, the earrings, and the American Eagle gift card. I've already gone to American Eagle and got a pair of pants and a cute shirt. I haven't used the Walmart ones, but I know that they will come in very handy when I go back up to college. I hope you had a good Christmas as well and hope you have a good New Years also.

Love,
Lisa

I don't think the outlook for Patricia is very good.

They are now in a 2 room facility next to the hospital. Her calls are being screened so I am giving you the new number to call and boost up her spirits. They had to change rooms and numbers because she was getting calls day and night from patients and not getting the rest she needed.

1-806-785-2244 then when the automated voice comes on put in 178 (her room number)

Her new cell phone number is 1-505-309-8153

I would call the room number because Vivian or Jack will be answering the phone.

She has a terrible cough. They took lymph nodes from around the lung, I don't think they know the results or at least Vivian is not explaining it well. She is to take chemo starting tomorroe (Friday) and then every three weeks. Vivian didn't answer for how long, then when she is finished with that, she will have radiation treatments every day for a week. Patricia had hoped that it would be some kind of a packet she could put in the breast opening herself rather than stay in Lubbock or make the trip every day.

They are hoping to go back to Portales next week. When Jack and Vivian leave, someone from the office (?) will go with her for the chemo treatments.

KIM, Vivian said she invited you to come and bring Megan & family with you but she is worrying about that. Doesn;t know when she can fit a visit in...you know Vivian she spends more time talking than doing.

Love to all,

Mother (and sister to you Buster)

Hi: Today I sent you an envelope w/pictures & some other things. Patricia had her 1st chemo yesterday, & felt OK yesterday, but today she said she did't sleep well, went to the bathroom every hour, etc,; but she slept all morning until 1:00 or 2:00, just ate something (7:30 pm) we shall see tomorrow how she feels. She is a litle weak, but doing OK.

I brought her lap top, now I can be in contact with you all ,again., Thank God.

Well, we will keep in touch.

Tomorrow, Sat., Dad & I are going to Portales again (2 h. drive one way only, plus 2 more comming back) to check her house, see how the are doing on the floors. We had the bathroom re-done, because of a lot of humidity, etc. & one thing led to another. The floors needed sanding, new floor on kitchen (linoleum), 2 new doors. The house was very old, & she never had time to do anything to it, so , now we are doing it for her. Hope it will be a nice surprise when she sees it next week.

Well, love , hugs & kissess toall,
Vivian

Dear Lucy & Buster:

It sure was nice visiting with you. I'm sending pictures I took from our visit, & the thought that I made for my mom, part was translated from something I found in a magazine "the Essence of Determination", the rest, I wrote on the plane comming back from Puerto Rico. & it more or less says:

"Esperanza always fought for what she thought was right, what she thought ~~was~~ had to be done, always helping dad on everything & every project he did, & bringing us up, etc.

She did not make a mistake, choosing as her partner & husband a "foreigner", "an unknown person", like some of her friends & family once told her. They learned how to live together & share everything: happiness, responsabilities, etc.

They were one for the other & from that love, 3 daughters they had, 1 son in-law they Knew how to enjoy every moment that life gave them (together): families, & ~~family~~ friends, daughters, son-in-law, trips, grandchildren, friends, & great-grandson.

2 grandsons, 1 great-grandson & a lot of friends.

thank you for being with us!

the Green Family, the Martínez de Castro, the Martínez de Castro Maldonado (Wicha & Victor), & the Centeno family.

Oct. 2005 "

P.S. I'm also sending copies of some e mails I sent you, & couldn't see them or print them

La Esencia de la Determinacion

La determinacion nace de un objetivo . . . Sabiendo que naces con un don para algo y ese algo debe ser alcanzado.

Nunca es suficiente atenerse a la suerte o a tu talento natural. Debes por encima de todo creer en ti mismo, encarar tus metas y despues luchar por eso que tu crees, como si tu vida depndiera de eso.

→ I wrote this

Es lo que Esperanza hizo siempre; lucho por lo que ella pensaba que era lo correcto, lo que debia hacerse, apoyando a mi papa en todo, sacandonos a nosotros adelante, etc. .

No se equivoco al escoger como compañero a un extranjero "desconocido" como le decian sus amigos y su familia.
Supieron convivir y compartir todo: alegrias, responsabilidades, todo.

Fueron el uno para el otro y de eso fruto salieron 3 hijas, un yerno, 2 nietos, un bisnieto y muchos amigos.
Supieron juntos disfrutar de cada momento que la vida les dio, familia, hijas, su yerno, viajes, nietos, amigos, bisnieto.

Gracias por acompañarnos.

PRESIDENT'S NOTES by Paul Ladd

This newsletter is a brief update on Central Alumni Association events being planned for the Summer and Fall of 2008. Mark your calendars and join the fun!

Two years ago, the CHS Alumni Association spearheaded a "High School Reunion Day" during the Three Rivers Festival on "Seniors Day". While this joint event with other high school alumni associations was moderately successful, we did not receive the advance publicity as we were promised. This year, we are hosting our own event during the Three Rivers Festival on Wednesday, "Seniors Day". We are calling our event "Back to School Day" – and will hold it in the parking lot of the Anthis Career Center. We look forward to spending time with all of our old friends and seeing some new faces at these events. It is our goal to make all of this year's events better than ever.

Alumni Association 2008 Membership Renewals

Most of you receiving this "mini-newsletter" will also find your 2008 Membership Renewal statements included. Memberships renew in June of each year. The cost remains at $10.00 per year. Some members have already sent in their 2008 dues – or paid for several years – or joined in the last 4 months, so if you don't find a statement, that means you are current. If you wish to make an additional donation to the CHS Alumni Association Scholarship Fund, you may include your donation along with your dues. Thank you to all who will be renewing. Your continued support allows the Association continue our programs and projects!

The first Central High Alumni WEBSITE is "under construction" Check it out at www.fwchsalumni.org. Thank you to Scharee (Sullivan) Zuccolotto and Barbara Pearson) Aurand for their volunteering their time to get this project started.

Central High School "Back to School Day"

Wednesday, July 16, 2008

10:00 am – 2:00 pm

ATTENTION: ALL CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL CLASSMATES

Come and join us for a Central "Back to School Day". This event will be held during the Three Rivers Festival on "Senior Day" – Wednesday, July 16th.

The "School Day" will be held from 10:00 am until 2:00 pm. on the parking lot of the Anthis Career Center (aka "the old football field") on Barr Street.

"Subjects" to be covered include:

Geography: There will be a tour of the Central/Anthis building at 12:00 noon.

History: You will be free to spend some time reminiscing in the "Tiger's Den".

The African American Museum (436 E. Douglas) is just a short walk from the Anthis lot and will be open for tours as well. Memorabilia from Central is part of this museum.

Music: We will have music from our school days. Listen, dance and sing along to "our" music!

Automotive: There will be some cars from the "the good old days" to check out.

Lunch: What "School Day" is complete without "Lunch period"? Sloppy Joe's and chips along with soft drinks are on the "menu" for the day!

Come join the fun! Fellowship, music and more! Plan to meet your classmates at the Anthis Career Barr Street Parking Lot! (We are hoping the trolley will be running to Headwaters Park for those that wish to go and check out other "Senior Day" events.)

CHS Alumni Association to Participate in Black Expo Parade

Members of the Alumni Association are planning to participate in the Black Expo Parade on August 16th. We do not have details at press time, but we are told that the parade will begin at 9:00 am and will end at McMillan Park. Watch local newspapers for the parade route or go to our website – www.fwchsalumni.org.

The Association has been offered the use of a 1926 Model T Convertible for the parade. Association Treasurer, Dave Beer, and his son are in the process of restoring this unique vehicle. All members and Central grads are welcome to join us!!

CHS Alumni Association Scholarship Report

There have been several requests for scholarships for existing secondary students. Originally, the Fort Wayne CHS Alumni Association, Inc. Scholarship Fund was set up for two post secondary awards, with a third scholarship added in 2007. Because of the generosity of our Alumni, the Scholarship Committee in May voted to grant one additional scholarship to an existing secondary student, in addition to the three for post-secondary (as funds allow).

This year the four Scholarships will be presented in July after all winners have completed their enrollment for the 2008-09 school year. At this time, they have all been accepted, but the enrollments are pending. Scholarships will continue to be $500 and are non-renewable.

Alumni members serving on the Committee this year include: Don Cooper, Carl Fowler, Richard O'Connor, Sue (Lantz) Diller, Donna (Dornsief) Guernsey, Dick Stoner, Ron Ryan and Ruth (Fousnought) Wiegmann who served as the Committee Chairperson.

Students who have been awarded Scholarships in the past are:

2004 - Lindsay Wyatt and Bradley Bassett
2005 - Michael Manuel and Jordan Herron
2006 - Lisa Peters and Anna Menze
2007 - Kathleen Wiegmann, Zebediah Moriarity and Jillian Lee

If you would like to make a donation to the CHS Alumni Scholarship Fund, you may include your donation with your Membership Renewal. Just indicate on the check, or on the Renewal Form, the amount you wish to contribute. NOTE: The CHS Alumni Association is approved as a 501(c)3 Non-Profit organization. All funds contributed to the Alumni Association are tax-deductible donations.

Mark you calendars!

SEARCHING FOR VETERANS

The Central High School Alumni Association is continuing to collect information regarding Central graduates and attendees who have served in the military. The names of veterans from World War I thru 1945 are already displayed on the Military Plaques that are located in the Douglas Street stairway of the Anthis Career Center.

The information needed for each Centralite includes their name, class year, the military branch they served in and their years of active duty. If you would like to include any stories, please do so! The goal is to add these names to the existing Military Plaques.

Please mail information to:

Lights fantastic!

Galen and Irene Leamon's display at 6107 Homestead Road features about 25,000 lights strung over trees, bushes and the entire house frame.

Area homes decked out for holidays

By Harriet Howard Heithaus
Arts & Leisure editor

With a family of six children that would eventually grow to 11, my parents obviously couldn't take us to many movies. But they could promise cheap and satisfying entertainment by popping corn and piling us, each with a buttery little bagful, into the station wagon for a drive around town to see the Christmas lights.

At that time, seasonal splendor generally was limited to a few strings of puffy Noma lights, the ones that look like acorns on steroids, thrown in red-blue-yellow disarray over someone's bushes. The artful ones framed their door posts. Twinklers, rare and slow as movie credits, sent us over the top of the oooh-meter.

This was the annual chance for a short civics class as well: The Communists couldn't have these on their houses, we were assured.

Just For Fun

That childhood truism guarantees the Evil Empire would eat its heart out today in Fort Wayne, the Disney World of Christmas decor. In how many cities can you be stopped in your tracks by displays in between the displays people have called in to effuse about? Decorated houses metamorphose from a simple mass of wattage into Olympic tales of panache, flash, geometry, novelty and a sense of the comic.

What follows here is a listing of light shows — most of them nominated by admiring neighbors, some of them stumbled on by the inquiring reporter, all of them in the spirit of the season.

It makes me weep that the Communists can't have these on their houses.

◆ 6107 Homestead Road (one-quarter mile south of the Liberty Mills-Homestead Road intersection): The home of Galen and Irene Leamon has about 25,000 lights strung over as many as 14 trees, the bushes and the entire house frame, which is trimmed in lights. The windows and the garage glow in double strings of white. There's an angel on the roof and several groupings in the yard, and a lighted rope driveway with candy cane holders.

Galen Leamon estimates it takes 70 to 80 hours, with the help of his wife and his father, to transform the house and yard. He does it, he said, for his grandchildren and all the children whose parents drive them by.

"You see the look of wonder on their faces, you'll do it again and again," he said.

◆ 2828 Emerald Lake Drive (the entrance road to Emerald Lake from Covington Road): Jerry Mazock and his family use nearly 17,000 lights to decorate their yard and home. Twinklers snake up every vertical line on the house, including the chimney. Sprays of colored lights descend from one arched window, while another "chapel window" outlines a cross. Trees and bushes are packed with lights, and the driveway is outlined as well.

◆ 6502 Old Decatur Road: Twinkling lights zigzag up and down the walls, corners and window sills of Joseph and Arlene Rice's frame house, with outlined seasonal shapes such as stars and bells. It looks like a piece of live Christmas candy.

This home at 2809 N. Anthony Blvd. glistens in the snow with lights draped over the trees and bushes as well as the house itself. Another adorned home is just a couple of blocks north at 3001 N. Anthony Blvd.

Top, Santa, Frosty and baby Jesus complement the lights at 2027 Kenwood Ave.; middle, colored floodlights outside John Nichter's house at 526 Rudisill Blvd. give it the look of a Bethlehem inn; bottom, a mobile home gets into the Christmas spirit at Lot 100, Southtown Park, 7555 Old Decatur Road.

Jumbled 'Jumanji' a zoo

By Roger Ebert
Universal Press Syndicate

Sarah (Bonnie Hunt) and Alan (Robin Williams) watch vines board game begins to enter the real world in "Jumanji."

"Jumanji" is being promoted as a jolly holiday season entertainment, with ads that show Robin Williams with a twinkle in his eye. The movie itself is likely to send younger children fleeing from the theater or hiding in their parents' arms. Those who do sit all the way through it are likely to toss and turn with nightmares, inspired by its frightening images.

Whoever thought this was a family movie (the MPAA rates it PG — not even PG-13!) must think kids are made of stern stuff. The film is a gloomy special effects extravaganza filled with grotesque images, generating fear and despair. Even for older audiences, there are few redeeming factors, because what little story there is serves as a coathook for the f/x sequences, which come out of nowhere and evaporate into the same place.

The film opens in 1869, as a sturdy chest is buried in the woods. "What if someone digs this up?" a shadowy worker asks. "God help them!" he's told.

We flash forward to 1969, as a little boy named Alan finds the chest in an excavation, and opens it to discover a board game named Jumanji. He rolls the dice, and is instantly caught by the game's supernatural powers. The pieces on the board move themselves. The game communicates with ghostly messages that float into focus in a cloudy lens. And Alan is attacked by a cloud of bats.

Another flash-forward, this time to the present, as two other kids find the game in an old mansion that has been abandoned for years. This is none other than Alan's childhood home, and when the kids begin playing the game, Alan materializes. He has been in limbo all of this time, growing to manhood, and is now played by Robin Williams. His first words: "Where's my mom and dad?"

Ah, but there's no time for sentimentality now. He makes friends with the children, Judy (Kirsten Dunst) and Peter (Bradley Pierce), and together they begin to explore the world of Jumanji, which contains jungle terrors. They will be attacked by lions, monkeys, rhinos, elephants, giant insects, poison darts, plants that strangle them and other plants that eat things, snakes, birds, mosquitoes, thunder and lightning, and (it goes without saying) spiders. They will wrestle with a crocodile, and Alan will almost be gobbled up by a pool of quicksand that appears in the middle of the mansion's floor.

Other characters make their appearances. There's Van Pelt (Jonathan Hyde), a big-game hunter who has also been captured by the game. Aunt Nora (Bebe Neuwirth), who has adopted little Judy and Peter (somehow it is inevitable that they are orphans). And Sarah (Bonnie Hunt), who was the little girl who played Jumanji with young Alan on that fateful day in 1969, and now has grown up into a reclusive fortune-teller. The town shunned her because she insisted on telling the truth about her experience with the board game.

The basic notion of the film (two kids have lots of scary adventures with Robin Williams) must have sounded good on paper. But the technicians have filled the screen with special effects, both conventional and animated, in such a way that the movie is now about as appropriate for smaller children as, say, "Jaws."

It's not bad enough that the film's young heroes have to e an unremitting series of ter dangers; at one point, little ing Thursday night's performance of "Cinderella" at the Embassy Theatre.

The show, a national touring production put together by the same group that brought "Crazy For You" to the Embassy in November, was not without its charms, but this Richard Rodgers/Oscar Hammerstein II adaptation couldn't decide whether it was trying to appeal to a young audience or to their parents.

As a result, the musical languishes in a deadly middle ground and doesn't do much to engage either demographic.

Originally a 1957 made-for-TV musical, this "Cinderella" found its way onto the road thanks to the public's continuing interest in the composing team of Rodgers and Hammerstein. But those hoping to encounter the glorious simplicity of "People Will Say We're in Love" or "Getting to Know You" were likely disappointed.

Rodgers' music for "Cinderella" isn't the problem — his tunes flow nicely and there are a few standout compositions, including "Ten Minutes Ago" and "A Lovely Night" — but Hammerstein's book and lyrics are unacceptably flat and unimaginative. There are too few attempts at humor — none of which are very successful — and the plot develops at an insultingly slow pace.

Director John Ruocco attempted to compensate for this narrative shortcoming by maintaining a constant buzz of activity on stage. His busy, meticulous staging initially drew attention away from Hammerstein's half-hearted text, but every time Ruocco tried to slow down the pace, the show crashed to an ugly halt.

The cast of non-Equity actors was creditable if not particularly memorable. Leslie Lorusso's Cinderella was appropriately put-upon and demure, while Matt Clemens' Prince was angular and sincere. Both can sing well, but neither showed many dancing skills. In fact, just about everybody in this company demonstrated an ability to hoof it up or belt it out, but none seemed capable of doing both.

strands every year in the five years he's been retired. He only knows that his live-in ornament has "thousands" of lights and requires a week to decorate and another to disassemble.

"And it ain't as much fun taking 'em down, I'll tell you," he says.

White nights

◆ 2838 Little Turtle Trail (inside Covington Lake Estates; bear right on Bayless Lane to Little Turtle): This home, whose owners preferred not to have their names used, has trees wrapped so thoroughly and so tightly with white lights that the property is a glittering ice forest. There are nearly 10 trees here. To find one of the best vantage points, continue west on Bayless Lane, which turns into Labalme Trail and looks into the back yard and Covington Lake.

◆ 5735 Old Mill Road: The caller who recommended this one called it "tasteful and beautiful." Greenery wreaths dotted with white lights and bowed in red hang on windows and the front door of this colonial two-story home.

Bigger than life

◆ Main Street, Churubusco: One enthusiastic supporter of Turtle Town nominated its commercial area as brighter and brighter each Christmas season, particularly around Main and Mulberry streets.

◆ That 30-display show of lighted Christmas scenes around Franke Park to benefit Easter Seals has easily passed the 3,000-visitor mark and will be open through Dec. 28. You can tour it easily from your car around a driving loop. Hours are 6 to 9 p.m. Sundays through Thursdays, 6 to 10 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays. Admission is $5 a car.

Smaller is better

◆ 7264 and 7244 Linda Drive (via Rothman Road): Much of this block of tidy little ranch homes goes sparkly at sunset, but two houses nearly next to each other have made the effort to crisscross lights on their running fences and twist white lights around trees for a candy-cane effect.

◆ Lot 100, Southtown Park, 7555 Old Decatur Road (southr on its extension adjacent to the Target store on South Anthony Boulevard; follow the trailer park drive to its T-intersection and turn left): The lighted bushes and multi-colored twinklers shimmer everywhere in the yard of this mobile home, where Marie Kimmel hangs ball ornaments from her trees and a sign announces "Santa stops here."

"I guess not too many people see it back here," Kimmel allowed, "but I enjoy doing it."

Stow the sparklers

◆ 526 Rudisill Blvd. (Rudisill Boulevard at Arlington): John Nichter has trained colored floods on the stucco exterior of his home that turn it into an aqua-mist-fuchsia Christmas card. The effect is one of quiet religious symbolism — sunset on an inn from Bethlehem of old.

"They're actually only blue and green lights," Nichter said. "The other colors are what happen when those colors intersect."

◆ 502 E. Sherwood Terrace (corner of Sherwood Terrace and Avondale): Elizabeth and Frederick Johnloz keep their company outdoors: The front yard of their ranch house has a lifesize Christmas crowd of dressed mannequins and other props, all dramatically lit.

Elizabeth Johnloz annually sets out a family at Christmas breakfast and other Christmas scenes. There's a creche and a wintry tableau of a Victorian woman whose lavender umbrella was turned inside out by the winds. It is an unintentional story line.

"The wind has been so terrible this year I've had to re-arrange a lot of things," Johnloz said. She also handles the cosmetology duties, reapplying lipstick to her pale troupe if snow and rain wash it off. She says she decorates the yard for other seasons as well and has been for 42 years.

"I love to do it," she said.

And to all: We're impressed

There were more than 20 nominations for lights fantastic around Fort Wayne. If you're in their neighborhoods, you might want to drive by. Don't forget the popcorn.

Marty Jasper, above left, serves coffee to Marvin Limer, 70, at The Latch String Inn. Limer has been a regular at The Latch String for 20 years — since before the Northrop-Clinton triangle was created. The triangle is easily identified from the air, above, with Northrop Street at the lower left, Edgewood Avenue at the upper left and Clinton Street at right.

is easy. On the other, when they arrive for the first time, getting in and out can be a puzzle.

"The place is a landmark," says Becky Hollo of Bowser's Arrow Fence Co., 318 Edgewood Ave. "Nobody knows where Edgewood is, but when we tell them we're on the island, everyone knows."

Marty Jasper, owner of The Latch String Inn, 3221 N. Clinton St., agrees. "If there's anyone who doesn't know where we are, we tell them we're right beside the Volkswagen on the pole. Everybody knows where that is."

Indeed, Jerry Suetterlin, general manager at Balser Rentals, 3229 N. Clinton St., says that was the reason for adding the blue VW to the revolving sign on the Northrop Street side of their business.

"When we ventured into car rentals, some of the first rental cars we had were (VW) 'bugs.' Don (Balser) wanted something real distinctive, so we added the car to our revolving sign. A lot of people know the sign," Suetterlin adds, "but they make no connection to the company. We have no complaints, though."

The used car lots at opposite ends of the triangle have such high visibility they have no problem attracting people into their businesses. Drivers even take shortcuts through their already cramped lots, and in the case of North Clinton Motors, 3216 N. Clinton St., some of the intrusions are unplanned.

It is situated at the point where Northrop splits off from North Clinton, a ready target for people who miss the curve. Co-owner Dick Strahm has watched while a vehicle missed the curve, jumped the curb and hurtled into his stock of used cars. "Not a pretty sight."

Still, he likes the location. He and his partner, Gerald Hetrick, have been there 16 years.

At the other end, Larry Paris, owner of Larry's Auto Sales, 3325 N. Clinton St., has had a ringside seat for 20 years.

"I was sitting here for 12 hours a day during construction of this thing," he says. "It was a state project and the project engineer used to come in here and spread out his blueprints. I told him it was the dumbest thing I'd ever seen.

"There had been a lot of rear-end accidents when the southbound traffic would back up here on the east side. (Clinton Street traffic formerly fed into the Northrop-Clinton intersection on the south end of the island-triangle.) I told him, 'You're just going to transfer the problem to the west side.'

"Sure enough, the very first day, there was a rear-end collision at the new light (at Edgewood and Northrop). And I've seen a lot of accidents since. It's usually excess speed, plus people have trouble looking past their hood ornaments (to see what's ahead)."

Paris also observes the results of sign confusion.

"We have this access road or service drive (on the east side), and there's a sign there that says '32-3300 North Clinton.' It refers to the buildings off this drive, but these car haulers who get off I-69 and come down Coldwater looking for auto dealers on Clinton will see the sign and turn in here. Then, they can't get out the other end. Even though it is a two-way service drive, you can't drive out the other end onto (northbound) Clinton."

He says the truck drivers end up jockeying their rigs around, tying up traffic until they can get back onto Edgewood, then Northrop, then Clinton.

Kendall "Hammer" Armstrong, 80, remembers a simpler time.

He owned The Latch String from 1952 to 1973, but his acquaintance with the business goes back to 1927 when he came to Fort Wayne as a young college student. It was well outside the city limits then.

"It was a restaurant then, and it was the ideal spot to go if you had wheels. I can't remember the name, but it had a garden around it with tables under the trees outside. In 1933, when beer came back, they put in beer. I think it was around 1943, when they added liquor."

By the time Armstrong bought the business, the city limits had crept out but still fell just short of The Latch String. There were three homes in the triangle then, and one of them, a big red brick owned by Charles Eby, also had a gasoline pump outside.

"I've heard that Charlie Eby was the first to have a gas pump in Fort Wayne," Armstrong says. "It was one of those with the glass top where you could see the gasoline. That house sat facing Northrop — what is the back corner of Balser's now — but the street was Clinton then. Clinton turned and went on down to (Indiana) 3 then."

(Not only was Northrop named Clinton, but the present-day Clinton was Leo Road, later called Coldwater Road and then Clinton.)

"The Latch String never was a fancy place," Armstrong says, "but I ran a pretty tight ship." He remembers when some of his regular clientele included horse trainers who would go out to the former fairgrounds off Lima Road at 5 a.m. to run their horses and stop in for coffee afterwards.

Strahm, at North Clinton Motors, says it also was a regular after-work stop for International Harvester workers who commuted from neighboring towns. Now, he calls his office "Rumor Control for Harvester."

"I was at Harvester for years. Now the Benet assistant tracks down former students

By ALEX VAGELATOS
STAFF WRITER

THERE IS SOME discussion over whether Karen Breach wants to use her first name only for the story on the Benet Learning Center.

Sister Miriam Schultheis, founder and director of the school for adults and students who are not in the "regular" school systems, praised her assistant/secretary/tutor coordinator's hard work but wasn't sure Karen Breach would go beyond "Karen."

Finally, sitting in a classroom at the former Rudisill School, 1671 Spy Run Ave., Karen Breach explained.

"Everyone around here is known by their first name. A lot of these kids have enough problems with their schoolwork without having to ask, 'Mrs. Breach or whatever.' So I'm just known as Karen when they want to talk to me."

By any name, Breach, a teacher certified to work with special education students, would be just as dedicated.

She has worked at the school for two years, since her husband, Michael, enrolled as a student at Concordia Theological Seminary. This summer, they will leave for a vicarage as part of his training to be a Lutheran pastor but not before Breach completed one last Herculean task — tracking down 2,000 former students and 500 tutors for a homecoming scheduled for 1 to 7 p.m. Saturday.

Breach turned over duties as secretary/receptionist to the school's other full-time staff member to concentrate on tne open house. She checked records and searched for updated addresses locally, because most students had stayed in the Fort Wayne area.

There will be a chili dinner, drawings, displays about the past and bingo.

"It's been 15 to 17 years for some of these people, and you can't expect to find them all. We've had answers from only four or five out-of-state people," Breach said. The school was previously housed near St. Francis College and at the YWCA.

Benet Learning Center counts among supporters Indiana University basketball coach Bob Knight, who talks regularly with Schultheis.

When students and teachers return to the solid brick school building, they will find a program molded by Schultheis and run by dedicated workers and volunteers such as Breach. Supplies are donated by local schools and businesses.

The fee of $100 a week for tutoring a full-time student doesn't cover a teacher's salary, and other expenses must be paid by donations. The building is neat but well-aged. Inside the old classrooms, something wonderful takes place.

Children from first to 12th grades receive individual tutoring in all the classes they need to complete elementary and middle school. Most of the students have difficulty working in public and parochial classrooms and were enrolled by parents who heard about Benet from other parents.

High school students take correspondence courses from the University of Nebraska under a tutor's supervision. There also are gifted and talented students and adults working toward their General Equivalency Degrees.

Karen Breach has been tracking down former students and tutors Benet Learning Center so they can attend the center's homecoming Satu day.

Forty-five students are enrolled. Most stay one to three years.

All this warms Breach's heart, particularly since she had an abrupt change of heart midway through her college studies in Iowa, where she eventually earned her teaching degree.

"I was studying computer programming but I decided I wanted to be able to help people more directly than by running a computer," Breach said.

Breach works with the tutors, matching them with students and making sure students are receiving the appropriate instruction. She often cannot stop thinking about students when she goes home.

"This is not a job that you just turn off. I'll often sit there and wonder, 'OK, what can we be doing for little Johnny that we aren't doing now?' " Breach said.

Breach, who relaxes by reading (Danielle Steele and non-fictio humor collections are favorites and making crafts, would like t teach for a while before raising a family and helping her husband in his pastoral work. They would prefer to settle in a small town or rural area in the Midwest, because both were raised in the Iowa countryside.

Even then, Breach will remember lessons learned from Benet and Schultheis.

"Sister Miriam is truly remarkable. There hasn't been a problem with a student or parent that I couldn't go in and ask her about, and she was able to suggest what to do to take care of it," Breach said.

Springfield (Ohio) boys stop by here on Saturdays," Strahm says.

Dave Smith, a salesman at North Clinton Motors, says The Latch String "used to be the last tavern before LaOtto." Smith grew up in the neighborhood, played ball on a vacant lot in the triangle and bought soft drinks at the former Standard station next door.

That old two-bay station is now hidden under the expansion and remodeling of Balser's Rentals. Don Balser started his rental business in 1957 on Huffman Street, later moved to Wells Street for seven years and built on North Clinton Street in 1967. The original gas station had small cabins for rent in the back, and Suetterlin says one was still there "with a hand pump outside" when Balser took over the property.

"When they redid these streets, our back became the front," Suetterlin says. "Northrop used to be a back street. We put in the revolving sign back there for better identification of the property, and we have a sign on the back of the building that directs people around to the front.

"The property is definitely not as accessible as it was because of the traffic flow. For anyone coming south on Northrop, it's hard to turn into Balser's."

It is a busy place, too, especially after 4 p.m. when the overnight rates kick in. The company's rental inventory includes more than 250 items — everything from tools, lawn equipment and cars to tents and tables and chairs for parties.

Balser's also does trade-show decorating. The staff recently installed 11,000 square yards of carpeting for the New Car Dealers Association at the Memorial Coliseum Exposition Center.

Don Balser retired in 1985 and his son, Ken, of Colorado Springs, Colo., took over. He also owns a rental business in Colorado Springs, as well as Balser's branch at 6019 Illinois Road.

Arrow Fence has passed to a new generation, too. William R. Bowser's father, William E., started a fence business in the mid-1950s. It was located at Smith Field. When William R. Bowser retired from the Fort Wayne Fire Department in 1970, he took over the business and moved to the Edgewood location.

"It was a big step at the time," he says. "I was 50 years old and had just put in 25 years in the fire department. I sold my home and bought a house and some property on Edgewood. I thought it would be a good spot."

He moved his family into the house and operated the business out of their home. In 1972, he built the bright red Arrow Fence building with the white fence out front, tore down the house and has continued to expand into every nook and cranny of the property since.

Besides various kinds of custom-made and chain link fencing, they sell and install guard rails. A second Bowser company at the site carries piers and playground equipment.

Bowser's sons, Jeffrey and Robert, and his daughter, Becky Hollo, took over the business when he retired in 1985. They're carrying on their father's success and neatness.

"He always wanted everything orderly — neat and clean. The trucks are washed regularly — we even sweep up twice a day," Hollo says.

Passersby on Edgewood can attest to that. Good weather days find one of the employees outside sweeping not only their driveway but the street gutter as well.

Hollo, speaking for her vacationing brothers, says they find their location ideal. "Once people have been here, it's great. They can go north on Clinton or south on Edgewood with no problem."

It does get a little noisy in the office at times — traffic zips past almost within arm's reach.

"There's a loose sewer lid out there that clanks, and we can about tell the time of day by the school buses going by. They hit that sewer lid — it's 3 o'clock."

The Latch String still has a regular clientele, although the occupations have changed.

"We still get neighborhood people and people for lunch who work nearby at Magnavox or in construction," Marty Jasper says. "Mornings, the car dealers from around this area come for coffee and breakfast."

Sometimes, when an old-timer stops by, talk turns to the old days: When Northrop was Clinton, a mere two-lane street; when Edgewood was a street you only took if you lived on it; and when you could eat a dish of ice cream under the trees and watch an occasional car chug by on Leo Road.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

HAPPY HOLIDAYS FROM SOME CHURUBUSCO ANGELS – Over fifty children and eight local adults made up the entertaining cast of "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever" presented recently by the TurtleTown Players. The play was under the direction of Harold Norman, who was assisted by Cathy Petrie. The play detailed the lives of the rough and neglected Herdsman children and showed how they came to learn and be touched by the story of the birth of Christ. (photo contributed)

County votes to close Co. Road 700 East for SDI

Whitley County Commissioners voted to close a portion of County Road 700E near the new Steel Dynamics Inc. (SDI) steel mill in Columbia City.

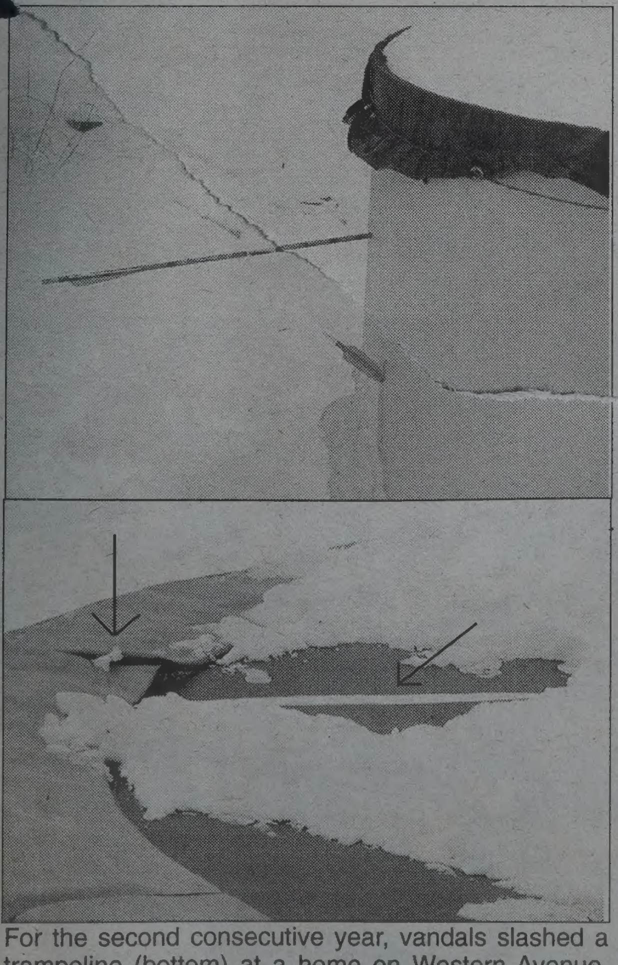
SDI had requested the county close a small portion of County Road 700 East – 900 feet south of U.S. 30 to 10 feet north of the CSX railway – so that they could locate several rail spurs on the property located on the other side of the county road. The rail spurs would connect to prospective businesses that would relocate on land already owned by SDI. The land is located between County Road 700East, U.S. 30 and CSX railroad.

At a previous public hearing, several residents voiced objections to the request, noting that it would inconvenience taxpayers and cater to big business.

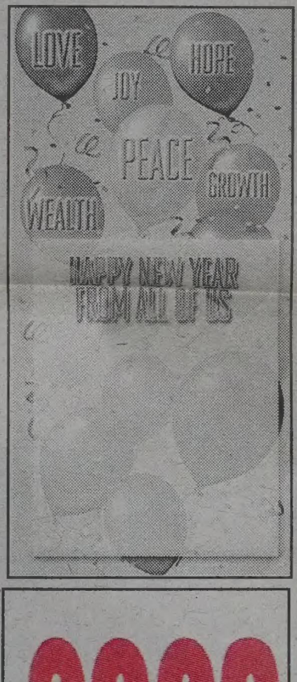
County Commissioner Jim Pettigrew abstained from discussion and voting on the issue and commissioners James Argerbright and Tom Rethlake voted in favor of the ordinance to close the road.

Rethlake said he had talked to emergency personnel who told him that closing the road would not affect emergency services in that area.

SDI expeets to employ more than 300 once the plant is completed and fully operational.



For the second consecutive year, vandals slashed a trampoline (bottom) at a home on Western Avenue. Several arrows were also shot into an above ground pool located at the same home (top).



New Town Wage Ordinance increases salaries by four percent

The Churubusco Town Council passed 2-1, an ordinance which will give town employees a four percent raise for the year 2003.

Town Council members Chuck Mathieu and John Barrett were in favor of the four percent raise and Vivian Rosswurm voted against it. Rosswurm had cited the state's perilous financial situation and the economy at an earlier meeting in December and noted that she would vote in favor of a 3 or 3.5 percent raise, but would not be in favor of a 4 or 5 percent raise as discussed.

The established salaries for the Town of Churubusco, which includes the new four percent raise, are as follows:

Churubusco Police Dept.

Town Marshal, $40,693 annually ($19.56 hr.); Deputy Marshal (With more than two years service and completed academic training), $36,978 ($17.77 hr.); Deputy Marshal (Less than two years service and academy training), $27,555 ($13.24 hr.); Deputy Marshal (Less than two years service and no academy training), $27,408 ($13.17 hr.); Part time academy trained officers, $16.22 hr.

Street and Utility

Street & Water Supervisor, $40,693 ($19.56 hr.); Street & Water employee, $22,090 - $27,435; Part Time Utility employees (classes based on seniority): Class 4, $8.65 hour; Class 3, $10.82 hour; Class 2, $12.98 hour; Class 1, $15.14 hour.

Wastewater Treatment Plant

Pollution Control Supervisor, $40,693 ($19.56 hr.); Assistant Operator (certified with two years service), $36,947; Assistant Operator (certified with less than two years experience), $30,566; Assistant Operator (non certified staff): $27,435; Part-time staff (classes based on seniority): Class 4, $8.65 hour; Class 3, $10.82 hour; Class 2, $12.98 hour; Class 1, $15.14 hour.

Utility Office

Full Time Utility Clerk (clerk-treasurer), $27,128; Assistant Utility Clerk, $11.98 hour; Treasurer (clerk-treasurer), $8,000; Town Council Board Members, $3,500.

Park & Recreation Dept.

Park Board Members, $150 annually; Park Director, $12,979 annually; Summer Park Program Director, $600 annually; Part time staff: Class 4, Minimum wage ($5.15 hr.); Class 3: $8.12 hr.; Class 2: $8.65 hr.; Class 1: $9.19 hr.

The Town also funds 98 percent of all full-time employees' medical insurance and has established a retirement fund which contributes fifty cents for every dollar of employee contributions up to six percent of the gross wages.

The salary ordinance also outlines the following stipulations on employee benefits:

- One week paid vacation after one year of employment; two weeks after two years; three weeks after five years; and four weeks after ten years.
- Any time worked over forty hours a week for hourly employees will be allowed as "comp-time" and will used as time and a half off. Unused comp time is paid as overtime at the end of the calendar quarter. There is a limit of 240 hours on comp-time.
- Any time worked over forty hours a week for salaried employees or supervisors will be allowed as credited unpaid "comp-time" and will be used within the quarter obtained or employees will lose it.
- Four paid sick days and two paid personal days are allowed per year.
- Holidays are: New Year's Day, Good Friday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Veteran's Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve, Christmas, and a half day on New Year's Eve. The Town Hall will also be closed on Primary and General Election Days.
- Longevity pay is as follows: $50 per year after five years of service with a maximum of $1,000 to be paid in December of each year.

In other business, the council approved obtaining a loan to purchase a new town utility truck. The council had earlier approved the purchase of the truck, along with a pickup truck.

The town purchased a 1998 Sonoma S-10 truck and a 2002 van box truck, which was delivered earlier this week.

Vandals strike same family second Christmas in a row

Patricia Frain is mad. Grandmother-mad.

For the second consecutive year, her granddaughters' Christmas has been darkened by a cloud of neighborhood vandalism.

Christmas morning the young girls ran out to play in the freshly fallen snow at their home on Western Avenue. That's when they discovered that someone had slashed their new trampoline – almost a year to the day that their previous trampoline was slit and ruined by vandals.

This year, the vandals didn't quit after slashing the trampoline. Several arrows were shot into the above-ground swimming pool, puncturing it in several spots. It has been leaking water ever since.

The parents, Derek and Shannon Roe, are at their wit's end. They have their suspicions on the vandals, but no concrete evidence.

"We didn't fill out a police report last year. We just replaced the trampoline," said Shannon Roe. "But we are definitely reporting it this year. We want whoever is responsible for this to be caught."

"It hurts my granddaughters to know someone would do this to their property," said Patricia Frain, "and that hurts all of us. When you mess with the kids, you mess with all of us."

If you have any information on the vandalism or have seen anything suspicious in the area of Western Avenue in the past 1-2 weeks, call the Churubusco Police Department at 693-2609.

'Underage drinking problem not going away anytime soon'

by Jimmy Lyons
Indiana Coalition to Reduce Underage Drinking member and student at Hamilton Heights High, Noblesville, IN

Underage drinking is a big problem that isn't going away any time soon. You can find alcohol at most teen parties. You find it in the refrigerator in homes where teens live. You see alcohol advertisements on TV where drinking is made to look "cool." But the fact is, alcohol won't make you cool. More likely, it will ruin your life and never give you the chance to be cool,

Alcohol is readily available to teens. One common way is by using a fake ID that can easily be found at colleges or over the Internet. Youth also can get someone older -- a sibling, cousin, or friend -- to buy it for them. Even parents buy alcohol for their children. They think, "I'd much rather they drink in our home than somewhere else." The truth is, if parents are buying them alcohol at home, they are probably drinking other places, too. And last but not least, youth can also get alcohol over the Internet. When they purchase alcohol over the Internet, they avoid having to show ID. All they have to do is check a box saying they are 21 when ordering it online. The alcohol is shipped to their doorstep. Doing this also allows them to avoid paying a state alcohol tax if the online vendor is from out of state, making it even easier to get.

Alcohol is also easy for teens to buy because it is cheap. It is priced comparable to other drinks like soda, sports drinks and water. One way to make it less accessible to youth is to make it more expensive by raising the alcohol tax. Indiana's alcohol tax hasn't been increased since 1981 -- before most teenagers were born. Currently, the tax on beer is about one cent per drink. The tax on wine is just under two cents per drink. The tax on other liquors is just over three cents per drink. This is far too low. We need an increase in the alcohol tax to help reduce underage drinking. We've increased the tobacco tax, why not the alcohol tax?

Alcohol can ruin your future. It can get you kicked off of athletic teams, out of clubs and cause you to lose scholarships. Why risk it? I urge teens not to drink. Do it for your parents, grandparents, family and friends. But most of all, do it for your future.

Letter to the Editor

'Thanks for the Best Christmas Pageant Ever'

Dear Editor:

Once again the Smith-Green Community has shown its support for the arts by embracing the Turtletown Players first youth theater production. The cast and crew of the "Best Christmas Pageant Ever" gave two wonderful performances and the community supported them with good attendance.

We appreciate all the juggling the cast of fifty-five plus actors and their families did in order to attend rehearsals and learn their lines during the busy Christmas season. Many parents and cast members went the extra mile by helping to sew, organize props and costumes, critique the performers and, of course, shuffle cast members backstage. The crew graciously provided great lighting, sound effects, and kept the production moving. Thank you to our program sponsors and to the Smith-Green School and staff who provided space and encouragement during a hectic time of year for the facility. Finally, thank you to all who attended for your encouragement.

We, as a board, realize that children are a priority. Someday, the children from this show will make a difference to the future of our community and beyond. After all, remember, "Hey, unto you a child is born!" (what an incredible impact that child made).

Thanks for your priorities.

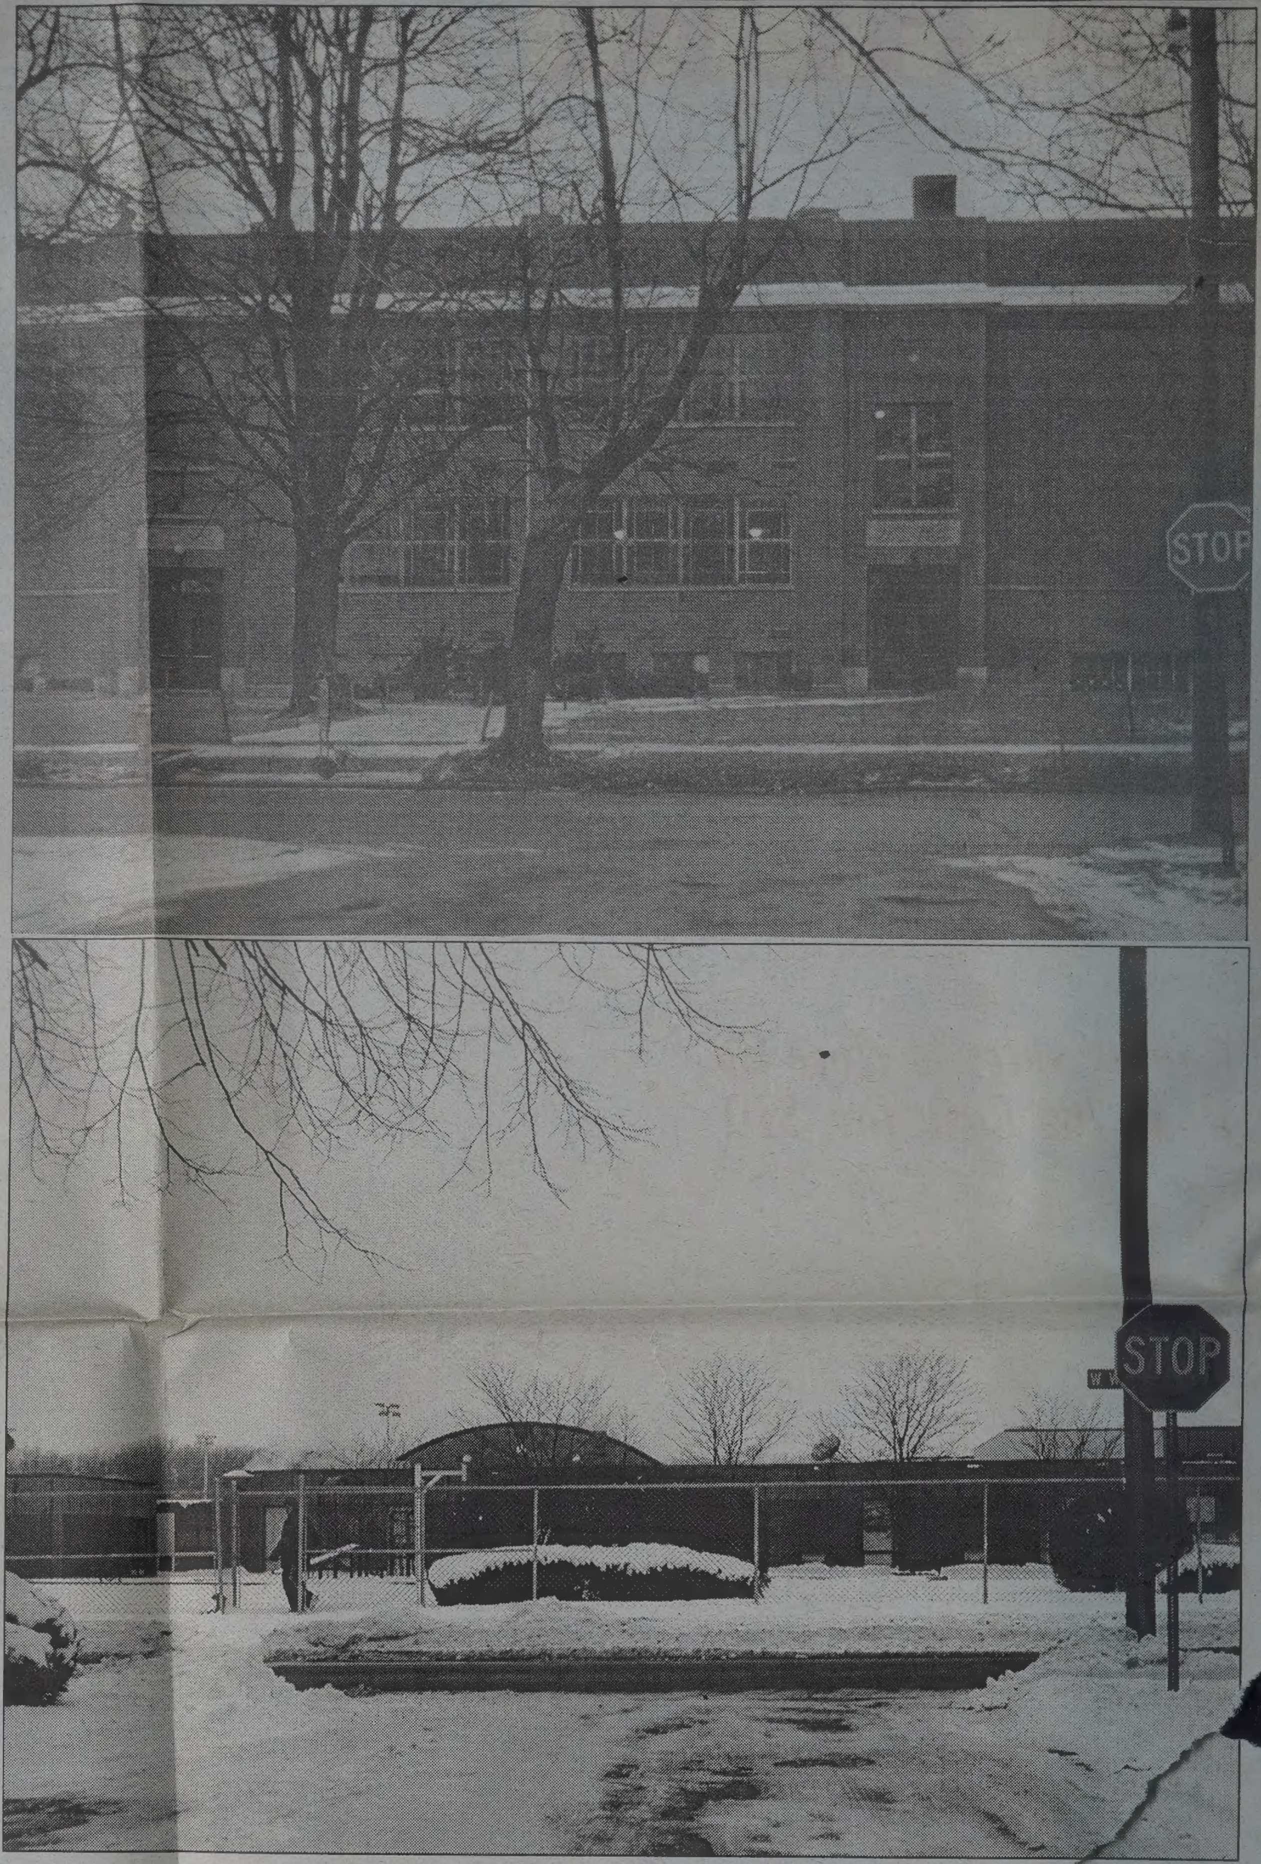
TWO PICTURES – 40 YEARS APART



These two photos were taken in the same spot – 40 years apart. Facing south on Short Street, you can still see Churubusco Elementary School, but 40 years ago, in January, 1963, it was a much different school. This building (top) housed the high school for may years until a new high school and junior high was built behind it, then it became the elementary school. Later it was demolished , a new elementary school was built (bottom), and the playground was expanded. (1963 slide/photo courtesy of Wayne Yager)

Clayton Rollins sings a solo at the recent CHS Christmas Concert held at Churubusco High School. Rollins is a member of the New Era Show Choir, (shown behind him).All CHS choirs and the band participated in the program. (photo by Sharon McDowell)

A mom now has gone to rest--
Her loved ones must shed a silent tear--
Her children, too, will mourn, I know
And in their hearts is awful fear.
However, each will follow on
To meet where ev'ry day is fair--
God's promises are always true
And think of joys in heaven's land
Where each of us shall go some day
In answer to our God's command.

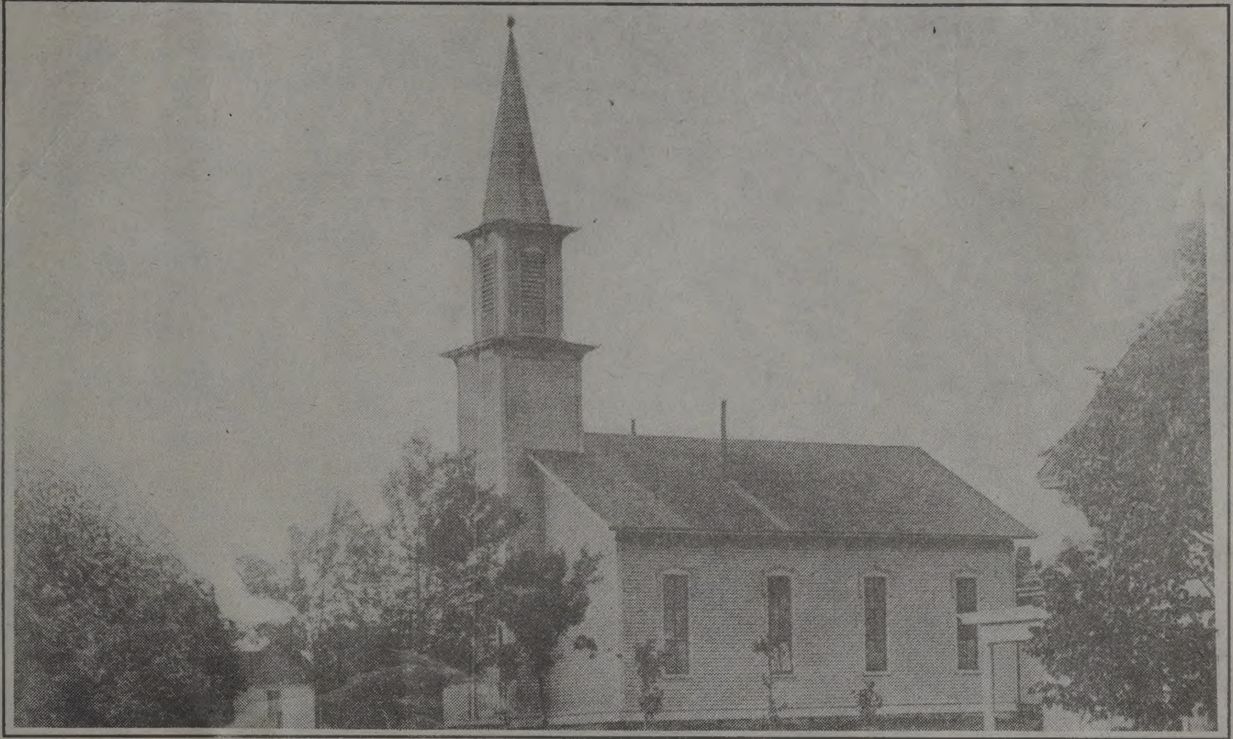
This is a picture of Churubusco's Main Street, looking north. In the distance is the United Brethren Church which was built in 1869. South of it is the grist mill. A sign directly south of the mill says, "Livery Feed". This was determined with the help of some of Dailey Fogle's camera equipment. The house in the foreground still stands next to Sheets Funeral Home.

It is always nice to hear from people who want to give me more information about these pictures. Bertha Tulley said, in reference to last week's photo, that the saw mill belonged to a Val Brown and her father, Dave Richards worked there. Then Ed Gilbert added a bit more when he phoned to tell me that in the late 20's Brown sold the saw mill and eventually it was moved back farther. For years it stood at the rear of the Vern Caley property on Mill Street until sometime in the 70's when a strong wind blew it down. Lumber was loaded on the railroad cars on the siding and logs to be sawed were kept in the area now occupied by the Aristocrat Restaurant.

Ilene McGuire Baker recalled that when she and her sister Mildred were children, they lived on a farm on the Rosentrader Road and when Road 33 was being paved for the very first time, mind you, they would walk down to the highway to watch the men work. Cement abutments were constructed at the corners where the two roads intersected and the girls managed to put both their hand and foot prints in the still damp concrete. Eventually the abutments were torn down, but their father, Jim McGuire, managed to save the piece of concrete with their personal imprints.



This photo shows the old EUB Church at the corner of Tulley and Main Streets. The church is still there, but is now the Believer's Bible Fellowship under the direction of Pastor Rick VanHorn.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR ORDER

We can only search for a record based on the information you provided in blocks 3-18. The success and accuracy of our search is determined by the the information you provide. Often there are many files for veterans of the same or nearly the same name. If there are five or fewer files for men with the same name as the individual in whom you are interested, we will examine all the relevant files and compare their contents with the information that you have provided us. If the veteran's identity seems obvious, we will furnish you a copy of the file we think is the correct one.

If there are more than five files, we will not make a file-by-file check to see if the information in the numerous files matches that provided for the veteran in whom you are interested. In such cases, we suggest that you visit the National Archives and examine the various files, or hire a professional researcher to examine the files for you. We do not maintain a list of persons who do research for a fee; however, many researchers advertise their services in genealogical periodicals, usually available in libraries.

PLEASE NOTE: When you send more than one form at a time, each form is handled separately. Therefore, you may not receive all of your replies at the same time. Allow a minimum of 8 to 10 weeks for processing your order. Please address inquiries about your order to the General Reference Branch at the address below. More information about the availability of records pertaining to military service or family histories may be found in our free genealogical information leaflets and forms. You may request these, as well as order additional copies of this form, by writing to:

The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies thou anointest my head with oil: my cup runneth over:

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

HERENDEEN

CHURUBUSCO, Jan. 25 — Mrs. Eliza A. Herendeen, 80, a lifelong resident of Noble County, died about 8 p.m. today in the Whitley County Hospital, Columbia City, shortly after admittance. She suffered a stroke in her home, five miles north of here, this afternoon and was found unconscious by her husband, Homer Herendeen, when he returned home. Mrs. Herendeen was a member of the Green Center Evangelical United Brethren Church. Surviving in addition to the husband are two sons, Glenn Keller, Albion, and Ralph Keller, Avilla; 14 grandchildren; 27 great-grandchildren; four stepsons, Garry Herendeen of Avilla, Elda Herendeen of Albion, Lawrence Herendeen, Garrett, and James Herendeen, Brimfield; five stepdaughters, Mrs. Lenna Leitch of Albion, Mrs. Dorothy Latta of Warsaw, Mrs. Velda Leitch, Vicksburg, Mich., and Mrs. Hilda Leitch and Mrs. Neva Musselman, Kendallville; two brothers and five sisters. The body is here at the Sonday Funeral Home, where friends may call after 7 p.m. Saturday. Services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday in the funeral home, the Rev. Marion R. Shroyer of Columbia City officiating. Burial will be in the Gray Cemetery. 1957

GRAY CEMETERY

Readings were taken in September 1982 and updated in July 1986. Named for the owner of the original family plot, the cemetery is located in Section 27 of Green Township along a lane 1/4 mile south of County Rd 400S. The earliest recorded birthdate was that of William Gray (1778), and Rosa and Harriet Gray's deaths were recorded in November 1839, the earliest in this volume. Rows were counted from west to east, and stones were recorded from north to south. Point of beginning is at the northwest corner of the cemetery, and rows are read from north to south.

A family burial plot east of Albion on County Road 100S south of County Road 500E contains the graves of two girls who died as a result of the plague and were buried separately. They are presumed to be sisters of Henry James Herendeen and Minerva (Herendeen) Busse, children of George A. and Dilana Herendeen. Broken stones under a tree are the last traces of the burial record, and permission must be obtained from the property owners, the Gaerte family, to visit the site.

OBITUARY

Homer Diffendaffer, son of Emmanuel and Eliza Diffendaffer, was born in Eel River township, Allen County Indiana, June 9, 1854. Died at his home in Noble County, Feb. 3, 1929, aged 74 years, 7 months and 24 days.

He was united in marriage to Sarah M. McCoy, Nov. 16, 1875. His wife preceeded him in death Aug. 2, 1914. To this union were born 16 children, four sons and twelve daughters, seven of whom preceeded him in death. The surviving ones are: Eliza Herendene, Emmanuel Diffendaffer, Maggie Owens, Issac Diffendaffer, Clara Owens Lawrence Diffendaffer, Edna Leitch, Eva Hawk, and Laura Claxton, 42 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren, one brother, Spencer Diffendaffer and one half-sister, Janie Coe, all of Noble County.

When a young man he was converted and united with the church of God at Sugar Grove.

Homer Diffendaffer was one of our highly respected citizens and he will be missed in the community in which he so long resided. He leaves to mourn his loss a host of relatives and friends.

The funeral was held at the Hopewell Presbyterian church, Wednesday, Feb. 6, conducted by Rev. A. McCloe. Burial at Hopewell cemetery.

RE: The Sonday Funeral Home

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Please be advised that The Sonday Funeral Home was established at this present location in 1906. Upon the death of Mrs. Daisy K. Sonday on April 12, 1960, the firm was sold to Lester K. Sheets, and was named Sonday and Sheets Funeral Home.

In 1970 the firm became known as L. K. Sheets Funeral Home, Inc., the name under which the firm continues to operate.

Thank you,

That she was formerly the widow of Emanuel Diffendafer, who died November 6", 1862, by reason of wound or injury received or disease contracted while serving as a private in Co. "D", 74" Regiment, Ind. Vol. Inf., (State rank and designation of organization or name of vessel.) in the war of the Rebellion (Name the war in which he served.) That she was his lawful wife during the period of his service in said war, having been married to him November, 25, 1848, and that she remained his lawful wife to the date of his death.

That said soldier was not in the military or naval service of the United States prior to August 3", 1861.

(If any other service, it should be stated in full.)

That she or a child or children was formerly pensioned on account of the death of said soldier; that the pension was paid by the United States pension agent at Indianapolis, Indiana, and that the number of the pension certificate was Widow #100153 Minor #110983 That she never received any other pension from the United States nor made any other application for pension. (If she was ever pensioned or made a claim for pension on account of any other soldier, his name, service, and relationship should be stated.)

That her pension or right to pension terminated because of her marriage to George Coe. That said marriage took place January 17", 1867, at ——. That said husband died May 28", 1910, ~~18~~ at Churubusco, Indiana (or) That she was divorced from said husband, upon her own application and without fault on her part, on the —— day of ——, 18——, at ——. That said last-named husband did not serve in the Army or Navy of the United States.

(A full statement of his services, if any, should be given.)

That she did not marry again after the death of the soldier except to George Coe named above. (If she contracted any other marriage after the death of the soldier, the name of the husband, the date and place of the marriage, and the date and manner of dissolution of the marriage should be stated.)

That she is without other means of support than her daily labor and an actual net income not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars per year.

That her post-office address is Churubusco, Indiana, County of Whitley, State of Indiana.

GRAND Carnaval at the Rink to-night. Mrs. TILLIE LAW will appear.

THE Beethoven Concert takes place on the evening of the 17th.

BEAR in mind the grand ball, for the relief of the suffering of France, which takes place on the 20th.

MR. JACOB DIFFENDARFER, one of the oldest settlers of this county, was killed, on Wednesday, by his horse kicking him.

PERSONAL.—JUDGE ESTILL of Ohio, is in this city. The Judge is a leading Democrat of his State, and one of the most agreeable and accomplished gentlemen we have met for some time.

THE beautiful winter weather we are now enjoying seems to enliven everybody. The bustle on the streets are one of its consequences as well as the business which flows therefrom. No one can complain of the winter of 1870-1.

MARY OGAN, living with Rev. Mr. Anderson, at Lima, Ohio, met with a fatal accident to-day. In the act of going down stairs, she tripped on the carpet and fell. She had at the time a glass lamp in her hand; this broke and a fragment thereof pierced her neck, and killed her almost instantly.

GRAND Carnival at the Rink to-night. Mrs. TILLIE LAW will appear.

MISS LULA PHELPS is agent for Woolley's Reservoir Pen—a novelty in the line, and we must confess, on trial, has proved to us that it has merits which are entitled to the consideration of the public. It is, in short, a pen, which once introduced, will forever after become a favorite. Miss PHELPS will visit our citizens with the new article for popular favor.

GRAND Carnival at the Rink to-night. Mrs. TILLIE LAW will appear.

IN the SENTINEL of May 14, 1842 Hon. Peter Kiser was market master, and reported things as follows: "Hams, per lb, 4c; lard, 4c; butter, 8c; veal, 4c; fresh pork per cwt, $1, 50; beef, $3 00 eggs, per dozen, 4c; whisky, per gallon, 20c." Oh, for those good old Democratic days of peace, prosperity and plenty of provision. Think of it! Eggs only 4c. per dozen. Oh give us a dozen boiled.

GRAND Carnival at the Rink to-night. Mrs. TILLIE LAW will appear.

GRAND MASQUERADE BALL.—The Fort Wayne Rink Music Corps will give a grand ball at Immel's Hall on Wednesday evening, February 15th, 1871. This band, which has been discoursing such excellent music for the skaters during the winter, is too well known to need any word of commendation from us. We feel confident they will give one of the best balls of the season, and we predict for them a large audience.

GRAND Carnival at the Rink to-night. Mrs. TILLIE LAW will appear.

A FRIEND of ours, who is a linguist, especially when slightly elevated, assures us the Dahoman language is easy enough to learn. The word pig (of course that would be the first thing to suggest itself) is expressed by saying soo-noo-noo-co-a-voo-tong. The moon is hath-oo-a-bing-flash-do-woo. Should one wish to compliment a Dahoman belle, to express the word beautiful he must pronounce ee-nin-dag-bee-dag-bo. Sixteen is an-fang-tong-no-kooh-nooh-doh-poh. Correct!

OUR NEW YORK CORRESPONDENT.

Victoria Woodhull and her diplomacy.—"What Susan Anthony thinks" of her—A "beautiful" dress and who wore it—The fashion of low necks.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6th, 1871.

Speech is a consecutive force and escape valve for the hurtful gases that generate in the human soul, and so we should not complain if every male and female among us is determined on using this power to its extreme limit. In Washington the women are carrying this privilege of speech to its utmost point of endurance, and they tell us that their emancipation is a foregone conclusion. "He shall rule, and she in thraldom live," as written by Dryden, bids fair to become a dead letter, for the matrons and maids have so decreed. Talking is all they do, for female apathy in all that concerns the ennobling of her sex has once again allowed the cherished hopes of the strong minded to be blighted. Long windedness is all that Woodhull and company boast of. The conventions have everywhere resulted in failures. The hereditary contempt of one woman for another and of every woman for all has brought the reform associations to grief; and there is wailing among the old maids, and the grandmotherly males who were instrumental and vocal in nursing them into life. What volumes of abuse the lady speakers have launched at the head of men. Torrents of words that might issue down came forth in weighty catadupes to deluge the unlucky wights; and the trumpet-flowers of rhetoric, the female orators, perfumed the air, withal were gathered and stuck under our noses in all the morrow's papers. But, happily for all of us, these organized conspiracies are broken up forever. Miss Anthony has left Washington in disgust, and says that if Victoria Woodhull can do more with her wiles and pretty face, than she has achieved after forty years of brain effort,—the cause is not worth gaining. So mote it be. In the meantime Miss Victoria is preparing to speak before the House of Representatives, and spending her leisure time, button-holing the Congressmen; writing her name on their shirt bosoms, that they may see it and think of her cause the last thing at night, and spending many dollars on suppers for their benefit. There are numerous features of these unwomanly gatherings that deserve notice since the last one let us hope, has been held. Many of the Speakers came upon the rostrum arranged as never was the wise man in all his glory. Some wore powder—perhaps to put and keep the ball in motion. Some bore upon their cheeks the bright color which nature gives array in the country, but which must be bought by the ounce from art in the city. Some were attired in the style of dress which displeased the old French philosopher who said of it, "Il commence trop tard et fini trop tot," i. e. it begins too late and ends too early. When I first attended these meetings I was struck with the inconsistency above referred to, and could not refrain from thinking as one fair speaker bent her flexible form to acknowledge the greetings of her audience, thereby uncovering to the public gaze much more than the laws of decency allow, that she might appropriately adopt as her motto, "Bare and forbear." If there had been a moralist behind her when she bowed, he would have entertained a similar thought, although perhaps, on different grounds. Now, a woman who has a good figure does not require too low a dress to make one aware of it; and, on the other hand, a badly-made woman cannot suppose that undressing herself will prove what the bare fact denies to be true.

This idea first presented itself to my mind in 1869 at a ball at the Academy of Music, where I had a fine chance to institute comparisons of all sorts and to draw various references. It never returned in full force until I became an interested participant in the rites and ceremonies of the Woman Suffrage Association, organized ostensibly for the elevation of woman but devoted really to their belittlement. The speeches of these reformers were terribly bitter; and they were so much bitterer when the speakers smiled, that I was forced to say to one of them in a little sermon I delivered one night in reply to remarks about the "subsidized press," Please, mon ami! pleuse! car tu me fais liffet ditre diablement triste quand tu ris. I spoke this in French, which I knew the lady didn't understand—and she smiled sweetly and bowed politely, as if I had paid her a compliment.

As to low dresses, I must tell your readers how this fashion of low dresses originated. Most changes in styles owe their alterations to the whims and vanities of Kings and Queens. Thus powder came into vogue to conceal a Queen's gray hair, and large perukes because a King was bald. The custom of ladies exhibiting their bust, in all the beauty of nature, has a far more romantic origin. In a battle in which the French were engaged, their ranks were broken, and they were routed. When they retreated, their women bared their breasts and entreated them to pierce them rather than permit them to fall into the hands of the enemy. This was too much for the gallant Gauls. Nerved with fresh courage, they turned, renewed the combat, and were victorious. From that hour their dresses low. In fact, when you see one who appears to have forgotten the upper part of her dress, it is no proof of indelicacy, but simply an indication of the power of national sentiment.

While on this all-absorbing topic of dress, I may as well describe a grand toilet worn by Mrs. Governor Morgan, at a recent reception. It was very beautiful, and altogether novel. A black gros-grain silk; the front width covered to the waist by embroidered vines of variagated pansies, each row finished at the side seams with large black thread lace bows. From this swept a court-train, which was trimmed on the bottom with a deep black thread lace flounce with a vine of the same embroidery above it. A heart-shaped corsage was finished with white lace; from flowing sleeves hung lace ruffles; large soltaires quivered in her ears, and the same costly gems blazed among the white lace, lilac velvet and ostrich tips of her head-dress.

The barbarous weather of the past two weeks has kept the foot passengers of New York in their houses, and in consequence, there is really but little news of general importance, but all I can gather I will send in my next.

L. C. H.

Du Chaillu's Lecture.

The lecture last evening was very pleasing and entertaining. Although, perhaps, not new to most of the audience, conversant with his many published descriptions of African life, yet to have a peep at the daring old boy who had the temerity to face so many dangers in the acquisition of knowledge and science was truly a satisfaction. Mr. Du Chaillu talks broken English, but he does it humorously and intelligibly. Points his narratives with many happy hits, and, although, he makes no attempt at display, rounds many periods electrified with what might be termed true eloquence. His lectures have a tendency to instruct and amuse both old and young.

Mr. Du Chaillu spent ten years in the wilds and jungles of Africa, traveling alone, going from tribe to tribe under escort of natives. He did this with a consciousness that he carried his life with him at a fearful hazard. His great insight into every phase of human life enabled him to touch the true theory of personal management in the encounter with heathen and savage. Knowing their superstitions, he used it for a purpose of safety, yet without making a parade of unnatural pretensions. Mr. Du Chaillu carried with him presents, and while his appearance, as a white man, inspired awe and reverence, his presents gained him favor and protection. His narratives are all thrilling, but none more so than where he encounters the first male gorilla, which he shot through the heart. The description of this monster is familiar to every reader, and with it the name of Du Chaillu is so identified, that it would be terrible to have them mixed, since Du Chaillu is not a gorilla, but a very neat and pleasant Frenchman, rather inclined to be bald; but this discrepancy in nature is fully made up by a regular soprano moustach which curls gracefully. Mr. Chaillu is a little prone to stoop; whether this has been occasioned by carrying off immense weights in the shape of the thirteen gorillas he has knocked down and dragged out, is not more a conjecture in his case than in the thousands of others who do likewise. His style is a little careless, yet withal pleasing, just what might be expected in one who would survey danger as a matter of business, willing to take the consequences. In short, while we would not be half as much afraid of Du Chaillu as we would be of a Gorilla, there is something in the composition of the man that smacks of the Yankee in turning events; and the Gorilla, though dangerous, would not prove so baffling an enemy. All this he might prove, pleasantly, of course, to jot down for science and amuse the public. The only regret we have, is that the great traveler could not have been secured for a series of lectures. With the great field of experience before him, the short time allotted, for even a cursory view, was certainly embarrassing.

On the 6th of March, the energetic lecture association will give us George Francis Train, the greatest and most fascinating talker in America. While words fly from him like sparks from an electric battery, they thrill with all the energy and excitement there is in eloquence. We shall welcome the glorious Train—hero of France, woman suffrage and Omaha.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Hon. J. W. BORDEN, presiding. In the case of State vs. Door, indicted for perjury, the court in this case sustained the motion of prisoners Counsel, and quashed the indictment, and decided, first, that where perjury has been committed before the U. S. Court or U. S. Commissioner, an indictment for the perjury cannot be sustained before the Criminal Courts of the State. Secondly, that any Judge of any Court of this State, or any Justice of the Peace may hold a preliminary examination in such a case, and if the party is found guilty, may bind him over to appear before the U. ANOTHER VICTIM OF INTEMPERANCE.

A Young Man Commits Suicide by Cutting His Throat.

One of the most terrible suicides that have come under our notice in this city, happened early this morning, at the St. Joseph Hospital. The victim's name was James H. Shepherd, a man about thirty-six years of age. He had resided in this city, at different times, and for three years was in the employ of Hugh McKee & Co., contractors, as book-keeper. He possessed more than ordinary ability, having received a fair education at Albany, New York. He was also at one time teller in a bank at that city. He entered the army early in the war, and was connected with a quartermaster's department. While this afforded him ample opportunity to gain financially, it also proved his ruin; for with prosperity came that fell destroyer in the shape of intemperance. The evil, once made a part of his daily habits, followed him until his end was that of the suicide.

For the last two weeks he has been in this city, drinking to a fearful extent; so much so, that he became prostrated. In this condition he was admitted to the Hospital last Monday evening, and remained there, at times delirious from the sad consequences of his indulgencies, until, in one of those terrible fits of mental and physical suffering which passes beyond human imagination, he took his life by cutting his throat from ear to ear. The following is

THE TESTIMONY BEFORE THE JURY:

Patrick Conner, sworn,—Went to the room where the deceased James Shepherd was assigned quarters, about eight o'clock, on Friday morning, found deceased quite rational at that time. After having laid down about an hour, he jumped up, dressed himself and exclaimed that some one wanted to kill him, packed his carpet sack and rushed out into the hall and ran down stairs, stating that he was going to take a room down town. I got down stairs as soon as I could to secure him, some of the assistants had taken the keys out of the several doors to prevent his escape. We then talked to him. He said he wanted to go to bed, and wanted to do so alone. One of the sisters objected to him retiring without some one in the room, but said he might go, and that after he got to sleep, I was to go to his room and stay there. The deceased then came up to the room where he now lies. After he had been there a short time, one of the sisters and myself went to the door of his room, opened it, and he asked "who's there?" the sister replied, "it's me." I then slipped into the room, it being dark, and laid down on one of the beds. He got up a little while after, lit a candle, and asked if that was me. I said, "yes." He then went to the mantel-piece to get some medicine; put one of the bottles to his mouth, but how much he took am unable to state; he then put away his medicines, consisting of three bottles, into his carpet sack; went to a window, moved a blind, and said, as though talking to some one, "Jim Geary, I can't get out, repeating the words several times, went then to the door, and said, "Gentlemen, open the door;" went back to the window, opened the blind and said, "Its locked, I can't get out." This he repeated; attempted to raise the window, but it was fastened, threw the blind open and said, "shoot me, shoot me in the heart," which he repeated several times. He raved in this manner all night. Towards morning, he laid down upon the floor, apparently feeling easier. This was between three and four o'clock. He then got up and went to bed. I then fell asleep and was awakened by the ringing of the bell in the Hospital at 5 o'clock. Deceased was standing by the window; went to a chair where his carpet-sack was, opened it, took something out, went over by the stove and sat down on a chair. I then raised up to see what he was doing. He was leaning his head and shoulders forward; saw him bring his hand across his throat. I was alarmed, jumped up, caught hold of his arm, and asked him what he was doing. He said "nothing." I then asked him what he had in his hand; he said, "a razor. I then caught him by the arm and attempted to take the razor out of his hand, hollowing "murder" and "sister." I then dropped the deceased, ran to the door, took the key from my pocket, unlocked it to admit whoever would come. He then fell off the chair. I took hold of him while he was on the floor; held him by the wrists; two of the Sisters then came in the room. I gave him in chaage of them, and ran down stairs to have some one go after a doctor, and when I came up stairs again he was about breathing his last.

Dr. L. N. Spaulding, sworn,—Was called upon to visit the deceased Wednesday evening about five o'clock; found deceased excited, not much so, but in a state bordering on delirium; he showed some medicine he had been taking, found it to be whiskey with a little valerian; found him bordering on delirium tremens, and prescribed some medicine to quiet him; gave the proper directions to one of the two sisters, not willing to trust it to his hands. I believe the next morning he had made his escape from the Hospital, and did not come back until in the afternoon. At five o'clock Friday evening, I went to the Hospital and found he had returned a few moments prior to my arrival; was under the influence of whiskey at the time; considered him in a state of delirium tremens; gave directions to have him placed in a room and some one to watch him, and to secure the windows and doors, and also gave directions in regard to the medicine, not wishing to trust the same to him.

Jerry Ettinger, sworn—* * Heard Mr. Carney say, "Get up, Jerry, he has cut his throat from ear to ear," (meaning Shephard)—went to the room and found deceased lying on the floor; saw a razor and pen-knife lying on the floor, both open and bloody; examined the deceased and found three wounds in the throat, one slight, the other two deep ones. He died about ten minutes after I got into the room.

Before being placed in the Hospital, he was crazy with drinking liquor; was 36 years of age.

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

We, the jury, after hearing the testimony and examining the body, do report and say that the deceased came to his death, caused by his own hands, by cutting his throat with a razor, while suffering under an attack of delirium tremens

HAYS, THE BURGLAR.—The case of Hays for burglarizing the house of J. R. Prentiss, Esq., was given to the jury about 2 1-2 o'clock this afternoon. The jury was out about three-quarters of an hour, and returned a verdict of guilty—sentencing Hays to four years in the State Prison and fining him one dollar.

Our Invisible Enemies.—The raw, stringent atmosphere of winter creates and aggravates many ailments. To protect themselves as effectually as possible against the invisible dangers which surround them at this season, should be the special care of persons constitutionally delicate. As there is no medicinal preparation in use which so thoroughly braces and invigorates the stomach, the liver, and the nerves, as Hostetter's Bitters, a course of that agreeable tonic is particularly advisable for dyspeptic, bilious, and nervous sufferers, in the cold, damp, and trying weather which generally prevails in our climate at this period of the year. Sudden chills have a very bad effect upon dyspeptics and individuals of bilious habits, not unfrequently producing congestion of the liver or bowels, or low fevers, sometimes of an intermittent or remittent character. Attacks of rheumatism are also to be apprehended, and when there is a tendency to that complaint the Bitters will be found the best preventive. The operation of the great vegetable tonic is direct and simple. It stimulates and strengthens the digestive and secretive organs and the nerves, and puts the system in a condition to resist the action of those formidable foes of vitality, a low temperature and unwholesome winds and fogs. By quickening the superficial circulation, without creating anything approaching to fever, it imparts tone to the skin, and thus renders the surface of the body comparatively impervious to unhealthy external influences.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Fifty years ago every school child knew the answer to these questions. Can you answer them?

When did Queen Ann's War end?

Who was called "the Old Man Eloquent"?

What famous general had a horse named "Claybank"?

How much cord wood could you get from a tree 30 feet high and 45 inches in circumference?

Describe the barks of five kinds of trees.

What is the best kind of earth for lettuce? For pansies?

Can't do it? Well, Miss Martha Greenhalgh, who has just completed 50 years of teaching in the public schools, for one, won't be surprised.

"For they aren't felling trees in the arithmetics any more," she says. "The World war has crowded out the old French and Indian wars and what can the child brought up in an apartment house expect to know about the barks of trees?

"No, the child of 50 years ago knew a great deal more about nature at first hand than does the child of today, and that I'm sorry for. But the has a wider knowledge girls are pretty much the same little Adams and Evas at all times, but here are some of the things I wish I had known in the beginning:

"That the best way to deal with the unruly youngster is to put responsibilities on him.

"That the best way to deal with the truant youngster is to get him to like his teacher.

"And the parents must never be allowed to go away feeling cross."

Miss Greenhalgh has taught in but two schools during her half century of teaching. Her first appointment was to the West Farms district school where she taught for 39 years. Eleven years ago she was transferred to the David Farragut school where she is still teaching.

And three generations of school children have cherished the lead pencils which, from time to time, she has bestowed as rewards of merit.

"No, the child of 50 years ago knew a great deal more about nature at first hand than does the child of today, and that I'm sorry for. But the modern child has a wider knowledge of outside affairs and that I'm glad for."

Miss Greenhalgh was just 17 years old when, a half century ago, she decided to assume the support of a widowed mother and become a school ma'am.

"I wore my hair in braids then," she says, "and one day a visiting trustee told me I must put my hair up and wear my dresses longer. To put my hair up was a burden, I had so much of it, but I decided I must be dignified at any cost, so up it went.

"The fact that I was the eldest of a family of six was about the only thing that helped me in those first hard days of school teaching. Since then I have learned that boys and

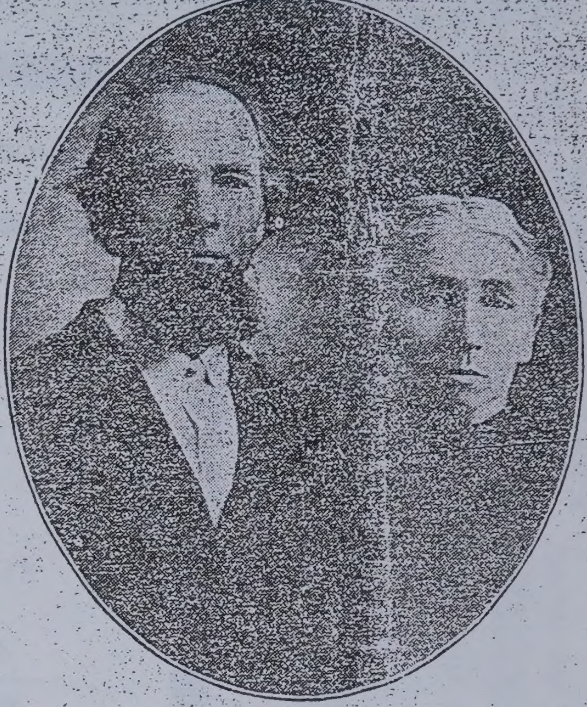
Dekalb County Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary



Mr. and Mrs. William Moudy.

(Special to the News-Sentinel.)

WATERLOO, Ind., Dec. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. William Moudy, of Wilmington township, DeKalb county, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding Wednesday, at their farm home, six miles east of Auburn. Mr. Moudy is 71 years of age and Mrs. Moudy is 68. Mrs. Moudy was formerly Ellen Carnahan, daughter of Samuel Carnahan, of Jackson township, DeKalb county. They were united in marriage on December 21, 1871, and ever since their marriage they have lived in DeKalb county. For the past 25 years they have lived at their present home in Wilmington township. Mrs. Moudy has lived in DeKalb county all her life. Mr. Moudy came to DeKalb county from Allen county at the time of their marriage, and settled on a farm in Jackson township.

Both have been hard workers all their lives and they still continue to operate their farm successfully and enjoy the work.

They have reared a family of five sons and one daughter—J. F. Moudy, Butler, Ind.; W. E. Moudy, Churubusco, Ind.; Walter Moudy, Laotto, Ind.; A. J. Moudy, Waterloo, Ind.; David Moudy, Auburn, Ind., and Mrs. William Hathaway, Buther, Ind. There are seven grandchildren. The entire family took part in the celebration.

William Moudy is a brother of the late Martin Moudy that was commissioner of Allen county when the Allen county court house was built. H. L. Moudy, 1919 Crescent avenue, Fort Wayne, is a half-brother and attended the golden wedding.

Dear Lucille,

What a pleasant surprise, I have not heard from you in a very long time. First my brother Bob and I haven't talked hardly at all since my mom died, so I have no idea what it is Larry and Janet is the same way. I really don't understand the problem. I talked to my oldest daughter and she use to write to Aunt Evie all the time, time sure flys. I've lived in Eureka Springs, Ar. for ten yrs. It is a resort place. If you are ever coming this Way. please look me up. So I don't know Janet's address, Bob does.

I will fill out the papers about my family, if that will help you. Do you ever hear from Rosetta (Haward's wife) the last I heard she was very sick. Do you ever hear from Patty (Rosetta & Haward's Daughter

Well if you get a chance write let me know the news.

Your cousin
Lindy

Jefferson Academy,

Immigrant overcame numerous obstacles

(Editor's note: This is from The News Sun files of the late columnist and Noble County historian Bob Gagen.)

As with most immigrants to the United States in the mid-19th century, Thomas Storey overcame obstacles with absolutely no means to succeed except his hands, brain and determination.

A native of Yorkshire, England, when Storey arrived alone in Noble County at the age of 27, he had already endured a setback that might have discouraged a less determined individual.

Having reached Lockport, N.Y., in 1893 at the age of 23 (very likely via the Erie Canal), he found his meager savings exhausted and his trip westward was subsequently delayed. In Lockport he found work in a stone quarry and in three years earned enough to look forward to buying government land in Noble County.

The morning of his planned departure, his old employer sought his help to help load a canal boat with some large blocks of stone. Storey agreed and while engaged in this operation a large section of rock fell on him and crushed his hip.

Fortunately he was able to retain a position with his former employer and in the spring of 1843 he moved on to Noble County and purchased 80 acres in the southeast corner of Section 17 in Jefferson Township. There he and his brother Matthew built a 12-by-14-foot cabin on high ground west of a swamp valley of the Lewis Branch (now known as Croft Ditch, draining the waters of Skinner Lake in a southwesterly direction to Albion and connecting with the south branch of the Elkhart River).

In 1844, Storey returned to Lockport and took a bride - Miss Mary Southworth, a native of Lancaster, England. During their "bridal trip," that portion from Fort Wayne to the camp on the banks of the Lewis swamp, they traveled on foot carrying all household goods on their backs.

Shortly thereafter, Storey and his brother undertook to clear and fence 20 acres of heavily-timbered ground for neighbor Alex Edwards. They were paid $100 and immediately invested it in land. Following this task, Storey and some neighbors undertook the job of reclaiming some land by ditching. In this way a large willow swamp was turned into rich meadows and productive cornfields.

In 1853, Storey traded his farm to Nelson Prentiss for land in Green Township, which he subsequently expanded to 300 acres and managed with 'excellent judgment and wise economy.' Within the next 20 years he became one of the township's wealthiest citizens - serving as its trustee and a strong advocate of education.

In 1856, he and his wife were childless, moved to Avilla, where they paid Peter Weimer $12,000 for a farm of 240 acres. During his remaining 30 years he made significant contributions to the town of Avilla, was principal founder of the Old People's Home there (later Sacred Heart Home, now Provena Sacred Heart), which was built on his land.

Relocation to the United States of the Sisters of Saint Francis and other Catholic groups of that time was the result of a religious upheaval taking place in Germany.

Otto von Bismarck, newly-installed first chancellor of Germany, upon taking office in 1870, engaged in a bitter struggle to subject Roman Catholics to state controls. Bismarck never fully trusted the loyalty of Catholics and became particularly disturbed by the 1870 proclamation of the infallibility of the pope. As a result he dissolved all Catholic religious order in the country, leading some of them to depart for the United States. Among these was the Order of St. Francis and in 1876 four sisters of this order — Anastasia, Brigetta, Barbara, and Zilla — came to the country seeking a site in which to relocate.

They were referred to Father Dominic Duehmig, a native of Germany, who at the time was pastor of a small congregation in a frame church about a mile north of Avilla. In the spring of 1881 they purchased four acres from Peter Weimer for $2,000 and built there a house to serve as a home for the aged, unfortunate, crippled and orphans. At one time these sisters had branch missions in Swan Township, Hessen Cassel in Allen County, Crown Point and Dyer, Ind., Joliet, Ill., and St. Joseph, Michigan.

Among the prominent members of the congregation at that time were: Monroe Bender, from the Swiss Republic; Matthias Blust, whose parents were from Germany; John Kreienbrink, Hanover, Germany; Andrew Lash, Alsace, France; Father Duehmig, Baden, Germany; Albin and Ignatius Meyer, Strasbourg, France; Henry Vogeding, Prussia, Germany, and John Morehouse, England.

Hi Lucy,

Sorry to hear about all of your problems. I have been suffering some back problems too and they are dong the pain management thing now but I doubt if that is going to help much. I have already had 3 sessions with it. My tailbone is broken as well as other bad disks. So much fun to get old.

My address is: 2717 Coveview Dr.
Toledo, Ohio 43611

Sure hope your aren't getting a bad storm like we are.

Love,
Sally

WANTED—OLD HISTORIES.

The Journal-Gazette is very anxious to secure a copy of Knapp's History of the Maumee Valley, and we will be under many obligations for information that will enable us to purchase the book. There were several biographical and historical works of Fort Wayne and Allen county of great value to a newspaper for reference, and our friends will do us a great favor if they can put us in position to secure them.

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES.

George Snyder Passes Away at His Home in Aboite Township—Was an Old Settler.

George Snyder, for over forty years a resident of this county, passed away at his home at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The deceased had been suffering for some time with dropsy and it was an acute attack of that dread disease that brought his life to an abrupt end.

Mr. Snyder was born in Ohio sixty-eight years ago, but came to this county when a young man and has never had any other home. During the many years he has lived in this vicinity he has made a host of friends and there is scarcely anyone in the county who was not familiar with George Snyder.

He leaves two sons, Harry and Samuel, and three brothers, Samuel, John and Henry, to mourn his loss.

The funeral will be held at 1 o'clock Sunday from the residence and the interrment will be at Lindenwood.

Friday night at 10:50 o'clock at St. Joseph's Hospital of complications.

Surviving are the parents and two grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. King, of this city. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the residence and at 2 o'clock at the First Missionary Church. Burial in Lindenwood Cemetery.

Snyder.

Harry Snyder, aged 69, died Friday evening at 6 o'clock at his home in Aboite Township of complications following an illness of two months. He was born on the same farm where he died having lived there all of his life. Surviving are one brother, Samuel Snyder, at the same home in Aboite Township, and several nephews and nieces. His wife, Christina, died three years ago. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. Burial in Lindenwood Cemetery.

Funeral Announcements.

MEEHAN, MRS. MARGARET — Private funeral services will be held Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the Getz & Cahill Funeral Parlors and at 9 o'clock at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. The Rev. Thomas M. Conroy will officiate. Burial in the Catholic Cemetery.

BECANCON, MRS. MARY—Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of a daughter, Mrs. George Green, on the Leesburg Road, and at 10:30 o'clock at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. The Rev. Thomas Conroy will officiate. Burial in the Catholic Cemetery.

K. C. MEETING CALLED OFF

Fort Wayne Council No. 451, Knights of Columbus, will not hold its regular weekly meeting in the council chambers at the Catholic Community Center Monday night, on account of the convention of the group to receive honor pins. The courts of awards are held in each season of the year.

VOTE IS 42 TO 34

Townsend, Vandenberg, Walcott, Warren and Watson—31.

Total against 34.

Of the 19 Senators not voting, 18 were paired for and against the provision. Of the 18 it was announced that the following would have voted for the debenture:

Republicans: Blaine, Farmer-Labor, Shipstead; Democrats: Blease, Copeland, Glass, Tydings, Smith, King and Swanson.

The other nine would have voted against the debenture, including Democrats: Ransdell; Republicans: Hatfield, Goff, Burton, Dale, Edge, Glenn, Fess and Deneen.

Senator Waterman, Republican, Colorado, was the only Senator unrecorded on the roll call.

Makes Bill Unacceptable.

Because of President Hoover's announced opposition to the debenture proposition at the time the farm bill was before the Senate, today's action was regarded as making the tariff bill even less acceptable, he already having voiced disapproval of the revision of the flexible tariff plan.

A number of the regular Republican Senators, however, were of the opinion the House would take a firm stand against inclusion of the debenture and firmly support the President as it did in the farm legislation.

After the vote the Senate recessed until Monday.

There are seven daughters and three sons, namely, Mrs. Charles Bender of Kimmell, Mrs. Edward Prickett of Albion, Mrs. Claud Kimmell and Mrs. Charles Beers of near Kimmell, Mrs. Carl Burface and Mrs. Mell Beers of near Wolf Lake and Mrs. Charles Butts of near Kimmell, and Messrs. George, Thomas and Leo Kiester of Stringtown. All the members of the family are residents of Noble county and meet in a family reunion annually. Nearly fifty were present Wednesday, only a few of the grandchildren coming, as most of them are school children and did not wish to miss school. Only one grandchild is married, Mrs. Cecil Denny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bender.

An elegant four-course dinner was served, composed of all the delicacies of the season, prepared in a dainty and appetizing manner, to which all did ample justice.

Only one person was present that was a guest at the wedding fifty years ago. This lady was Mrs. Catherine McCluen of Goshen, sister of Mrs. Kiester. Mr. and Mrs. Kiester were the recipients of many beautiful presents appropriate for the occasion. An abundance of flowers made the home a bower of beauty for the festal day for the bride nad groom of fifty years.

Only one incident marred the perfect happiness of the day and that was that Mr. Kiester was not feeling as well as usual and was not able to sit up all day, having to lie down much of the time. Both of the old people have been indisposed the past few weeks, but Mrs. Kiester is at present feeling much better than is her husband.

We hope Mr. and Mrs. Kiester may live to celebrate their "diamond wedding" and have the pleasure of still having an unbroken family circle, and have their children, grandchildren and possibly by that time numerous great-grandchildren, to swell the family reunion.

Ermel Noe is reported convalescent and sat up a short time Thursday. One lung is still painful at times, but we are pleased to be able to report a betterment in her condition.

Mr. John Crothers returned home from the Burleson hospital Wednesday and is feeling reasonably good, and is taking a rest from treatment. He will have to return in a week or ten days for further treatment.

Mrs. George Lafong, we are sorry to report, is no better. Her sister, Mrs. Halters, went Wednesday and will assist in caring for the invalid as long as is Albion - Otis Calvin Hawk, age 87, of Albion, died on Sunday January 2, 2011 at 2:35 AM at Northridge Village Nursing Home in Albion. He had been in declining health for the last 3 months.

He was born on May 31, 1923 in Green Township, Noble County and was the son of the late Alvia Dora and Eva (Diffeadaffer) Hawk.

He was a tool and dye maker at Flint & Walling in Kendallville from March 1947 until his retirement in May of 1986.

On July 21, 1945 at St. Marks Lutheran Church in Albion, he married Ethel Mae Poage. She died on May 10, 1999.

Mr. Hawk proudly served his country in the United States Army during World War II. He was known as a "junkin" and loved to take things apart and sell, He tinkered with anything and could tear apart and rebuild anything from a toaster to an engine. He loved to fish and go to the Noble County Saddle Club to watch his granddaughter in horse shows.

He had an unintentional lawn tractor collection, loved to go to auctions and go to tractor shows with his son. In his younger years, he loved to cut wood, and garden. He was a memebr of the Asbury United Methodist Church in Albion.

Surviving are a daughter and son in law, Diana Lynn and Leslie Coe of Albion; a son, Darl Lee Hawk of Albion. Four grandchildren, Tony Hawk, Brian Hawk, Kerry Hawk, and Ashlee Hawk, and 12 great grandchildren.

When the little girl decided to return home, Vernon told her he was going to Lawton Park to play. The mother said she became concerned when he did not return home and she was searching for him during the storm. He never remained away from home more than two hours before, she said.

Surviving, besides the parents, are two brothers, Norman and Ades Henry, and a sister, Juanita. The boy was in the 1-B grade at the Rudisill School.

Gold Basis Hurts Trade

High Level Of French Currency Makes Competition In World Business Difficult, Figures Indicate.

PARIS.—(I.N.S.)—France, because of the high level of its currency is finding it harder and harder to compete with its rival nations in world commerce, according to government reports for the first four months of the year recently released.

From the first of the year to the end of April 15,666,035 tons of merchandise valued at 8,631,760,000 francs ($57,945,000) were imported into France. During the same period, exports amounted to 8,824,782 tons valued at 5,031,513,000 francs (57,945,000) were imported into France. During the same period, exports amounted to 8,824,782 tons valued at 5,953,513,000 francs ($39,390,000). Thus French trade during the first four months of the current year showed an unfavorable balance of 2,702,237,000 francs ($18,054,913.)

Although exports show a considerable decrease over the corresponding months of 1933, French financial commentators are consoling their readers with the fact that the unfavorable balance was not so bad in April as in March.

Began Four Years Ago

France's difficulties with its foreign trade began four years ago but they have been greatly aggravated by England and America leaving the gold standard. The latter countries due to their depreciated currency are now in a position to sell their goods in world markets at extremely low prices.

France, on the other hand, still maintaining the gold standard finds itself underbid in almost every market. In ter, Miss Ruth Rayhouser, 2044 Broadway, with the Rev. Fred Wambsganss officiating. Burial will be in Lindenwood Cemetery. Mrs. Rayhouser had lived in Fort Wayne since she was 22 years of age. The body was taken to the residence today from Mungovan & Sons' Mortuary.

STOREY, MRS. SARAH.—Funeral services will be held Monday at 9:30 a.m. at the residence of a daughter, Mrs. Grace Leibig, 2346 South Anthony Boulevard, and at 10 a.m. at St. Peter's Catholic Church with the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Charles H. Thiele officiating. Burial in the Catholic Cemetery. Mrs. Storey's name was erroneously reported to The News-Sentinel Friday as Mrs. Sarah Storey Sperry. Three sons, Bernard Storey, of this city; Frank Storey, of South Bend, and Thomas Storey, of Bluffton, are among survivors.

JAEGER, GEORGE.—Last rites have been set for Monday at 8:30 a.m. at the residence, 3136 Smith Street, and at 9 a.m. at St. Peter's Catholic Church. Burial in the Catholic Cemetery.

PALLONE, MRS. KATHERINE.—Funeral rites will be held Monday at 8:30 a.m. at the residence, 1410 Grant Avenue, and at 9 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church with the Rev. George A. Hasser officiating. Burial in the Catholic Cemetery.

ARBAUGH, WILLIAM.—Funeral services will be held Sunday at 1:30 p.m. (C.S.T.) at the home of a niece, Mrs. Mila Newhouse, of Zanesville, and at 2 p.m. at the Zanesville U. B. Church. Burial in the Haverstock Cemetery.

WALDA, MRS. AUGUSTA.—Last rites will be held Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the home, 1021 Walter Street, and at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church with the Rev. Paul F. Miller officiating. Burial in Concordia Cemetery.

KIMBALL, MRS. KATHERINE A.—Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Chalfant-Cutshall Funeral Home with the Rev. Charles M. Houser officiating. Burial in Lindenwood Cemetery. The family has asked omission of flowers.

sued after Dr. Karl Meyer, superintendent of the Cook County Hospital, had taken a more serious view.

"Chicago is faced with a major epidemic of typhoid fever," Dr. Meyer said. "I advise everyone to be vaccinated immediately."

Jesus called the body the temple of the soul.

"The second element of the Good Life is as the Christian conceives it; an acute and comprehensive capacity of intellect. But again you have been told that Christianity is hostile to education. Unfortunately the change has been true of some Christians, but never of Jesus, the teacher.

"You have a sound mind in a sound body. As its basis, the Christian seeks to establish an ethic, a way of living or a scheme of morals.

"Who then is a Christian? Here are six marks or characteristics of the Christian: He is not full grown but growing; he is not a graduate but a pupil; he is not a conqueror but a combatant; he is not saved but being saved; he is not a ruler but a Servant; he is one with God in purpose."

A play presented by the Muncie District after Dr. Schutz's talk was given by the Friends Church. Those who took part were Fred Rector, Armydis Sturdevant, Verl Bromewell, George Newbold, Stephen Cope, Merrell Hole, Pauline Baldwin, Francis Jolleffe and Martha Gallimore.

The junior and intermediate conventions of the state C. E. Union met here this morning. The Junior Convention was held at St. John's Reformed Church with Miss Edith Cline, state junior superintendent, in charge. Mrs. Martin was leader of the convention discussions. Old brick school building now just a memory to Churubusco residents

by Mary E. Heck

The old brick Churubusco school building, located on West Whitley St., is now being torn down, leaving only its memory to the thousands of local persons familiar with it throughout its more than half a century of service.

Cement blocks which were placed above the front entrances told us only half-truths—that the school was constructed in 1926. Some portions of this structure, it seems, were built in 1901, according to an article written in the 1950's about the local schools. Apparently, the 1926 section was constructed to surround and enclose that portion built 25 years earlier.

A story about Churubusco in the April 18, 1915, edition of the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette includes a picture of the school at that time. Rectangular in shape, the brick building had a flat roof, with windows extending across the front, or south side.

When comparing the 1915 picture with that of 1973, it is obvious that the middle section of the latter structure is a remodeled version of the 1901 school. Additions were simply joined to each end, and the front windows, previously eight separate openings, were united together into two sections of glass on each floor.

The two-story building had a sloping roof with chimneys at each end and a school bell situated in the center. Six separate openings, were united together into two sections of glass on each floor.

The first school in Churubusco, according to another article appearing around 1915 in a Fort Wayne newspaper, was a subscription school. Established in 1844, it was held in a vacant house on the west side of Main St., near the current Pennsylvania Railroad.

In the 1850's that first school was vacated. Its successor, School No. 6, was a "little white school house," according to the late Mrs. F. M. Magers in a story read on July 27, 1927, at a reunion of the Class of 1886.

Due to an increasing population, however, a new brick structure was built in 1875 on Whitley St., where the later schools continued their existence. At this time, George Gaff was trustee, and the school, 40 by 70 feet in size, cost a total situated in the center. Six windows spanned the front on both stories, and two-door entranceway was in the center.

This building was torn down at the turn of the century, and by 1901 the first flat-roofed school was completed. Visible in the 1915 picture are big letters reading "Public School" extended across the front near the roof. A small, one-story brick structure, along with a small white annex were apparently added to the back of the school, and a flag on a long pole extending from the roof flies high in the air.

John Gieseking, a member of the Class of 1932, recalls that grades one to five were housed on the ground floor and that the

The 1915 Journal-Gazette article decribes this school as being "one of the finest and most commodious in the entire state." It was "equipped with a department for manual training and supervised by the best teachers the town could find." That was back in the days when the onion was a prominent product in Churubusco, and step ladders sold for only 59 cents.

Five years earlier, in 1921, a consolidated school was built in the nearby town of Collins, which was closed in 1957, sending its students to Churubusco.

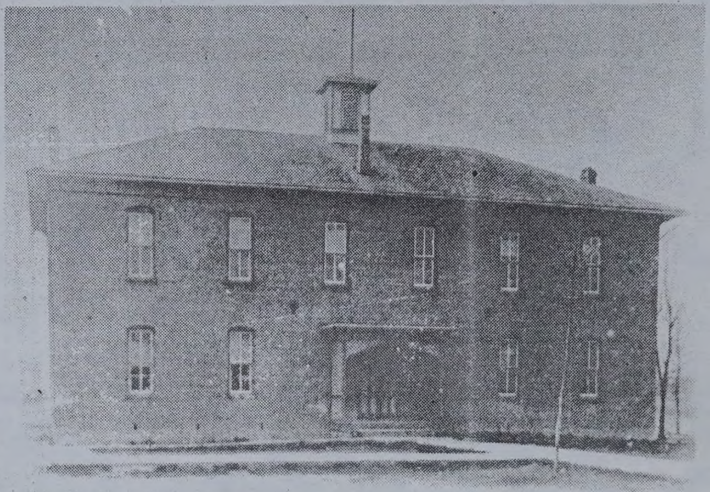
DEMOLITION UNDERWAY—Work began last week on the demolition of the old Churubusco School. This picture was taken shortly after the contractor's crane was wrecked, delaying work at the site. The old two-tone painted walls were exposed after removal of the brick exterior. TRUTHpic



ONE OF FIRST SCHOOLS—This brick structure matches that described by Mrs. F. M. Magers in an address in 1927 at the reunion of the Class of 1886. Located on what is now Whitley St., the building constructed in 1875, measured 40 by 70 feet and cost $4,000. Mrs. Magers said, "It was very plain and utterly devoid of any architectural beauty-it is said that the expenditure of $25 would have greatly beautified the exterior."

Enthusiastic Civic Theater Guild Head Loves New Chores

Mrs. Lester H. Green

By CAROLEN COLLINS

Whether she is at the Civic Theater cheerfully wading and sorting through tons of costumes, manning a ticket booth or organizing a committee, Mrs. Lester Green, 4320 Trier Road, keeps right on smiling.

The reason? "I love belonging to the Civic Theater Guild," explained Mrs. Green, who prefers to be called Lucy. Even with the added duties she has recently shouldered as new president of the guild, her enthusiasm remains strong.

"It is so easy to get involved," she said convincingly. "I imagine you could spend every day at the theater and do something different every day."

In fact, her activities with the guild are almost at the top of her imaginary priority list. "My husband and children come first," she said, ". . . then the guild comes next."

Mrs. Green joined the Civic Theater Guild in 1958 at the urging of a sister-in-law, and also because she wanted to "get involved with something I thought was worthwhile." I also wanted to do my part to help and support theater in our town.," she added. "The Civic Theater is something worth holding on to," she said with sincerity.

Over the years, the guild has taken on more and more responsibility for various activities connected with the theater, according to Mrs. Green.

Guild members man the box-office and concession stands for every show during the season. It takes 42 members an average of six to eight hours each to man the booths for each show, she revealed, which means heavy participation on the part of many of the 90-plus members.

Members work on costumes for the shows and can often be found helping to build and paint sets.

The Follies, an annual fund raising project sponsored, organized and performed by guild members and their husbands, takes untold man and woman-hours, Mrs. Green reported.

The gala premiere party is under the direction of the guild and members of the cast and membership. Committees have already begun work on arrangements for the event.

They also have the pleasure of presenting a series of "first nighter" parties after the first performance of each of the season's seven plays. Guild members sometimes prepare refreshments and arrange entertainment and music for each event, usually held in the Green Room at the theater on Maiden Lane.

The purpose of sponsoring a number of social events throughout the season is to "bridge the gap between actors, the cast and the audience," she explained. If the community becomes more involved with their theater, they will support it more actively, the guild reasons.

Although her activities with the guild leave little time for outside activities, she does try to keep up with her favorite pastimes which include sewing, bowling with her family, swimming and entertaining friends.

She spends part of her time keeping track of her 15-year-old son's constantly changing menagerie which has included at various times fish, a chipmunk, gerbles, turtles, salamanders, and a garter snake. She also trys to make sure 12-year-old daughter Lonnie Sue arrives at dance lessons on time.

Mrs. Green and her husband, who is associated with Mobile Oil Co., are currently looking for a boat and enjoy many outdoor sports together.

She loves to refinish furniture, but rarely has time, she lamented. A chair heaped high with folds of material and patterns are ingredients for another project she has temporarily postponed until Civic Theater Guild activities are organized for the summer.

Mrs. Green admits she frequently calls on her officers and committee chairmen for help. Officers and chairmen for the new season include: executive board members Mrs. William Poinsatte, president-elect; Mrs. George Buckner, vice president; Mrs. Harold Friederick, recording secretary; Mrs. Ronald Shaffer, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Jack Spring, treasurer.

The committee chairmen for the 1971-72 season are: Mrs. Don Goldner, Fine Arts Festival and Anthony awards; Mrs. Charles Warrick, membership; Mrs. Henry Sandkuhler, season tickets; Mrs. David Stratton, publicity and historian; Mrs. Darrell Carpenter, nominating and parliamentarian; and Mrs. John Rousseau, hospitality and spring luncheon.

Additional committee chairman are: Mrs. Richard Hill and Mrs. James Place, box office; Mrs. Robert DeVore, telephone; Mrs. Robert Macy, guild supplies; Mrs. Jed Meyers and Mrs. Bert Keenan, first nighter parties; Mrs. Monte Leeper and Miss Joyce Holland, concessions.

Mrs. Fred Vonderlage and Mrs. Fred Fitchey will serve as chairmen of the premier; Mrs. W. Richard Holstrom and Mrs. George Buckner are representatives to the Ambassador Club speakers bureau.

Dear New Member,

We welcome you to membership in the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. You have chosen to join an organization that represents the largest women's lineage society dedicated to the objectives of patriotism, education and historic preservation.

By establishing your descent from a Patriot of the American Revolution your verified application papers will preserve your heritage and some of the history of your family. We know that you will be proud to join the 170,000 members of our society in honoring the Patriots of the past as well as those who are currently in the forefront of the defense of America's freedom.

In these trying times, the DAR stands firmly behind our motto of: "God, Home and Country". We are pleased that you join us in that endeavor. Together we will meet the challenge of preserving our heritage of freedom into the 21st Century.

Sincerely,

Linda Tinker Watkins

Do Not Stand at My Grave

Do not stand at my grave and weep.
I am not there. I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow.
I am the diamond glints on snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain.
I am the gentle autumn's rain.
When you awaken in the morning hush,
I am the swift uplifting rush of quiet
Birds in circled flight.
I am the soft stars that shine at night.
Do not stand at my grave and cry.
I am not there; I did not die.

NEVA EVALYN MUSSELMAN, age 96, of Kendallville, died on Tuesday, April 26, 2016 at Lutheran Life Villages in Kendallville. Mrs. Musselman was born in Green Township, Noble County, Indiana on December 18, 1919 to the late Homer Eugene and Bertha Ellen (Diffendarfer) Herendeen. She married Charles Everett Musselman on November 23, 1946 in Churubusco. He preceded her in death on March 28, 1998. Neva worked at General Electric during WWII and built airplane engines. They were known as "Rosie The Rivetors". Along with her husband, she owned the House of Spirits in Albion for 25 years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Kendallville.

We are certainly going to miss Neva. She was a loving mom, a remarkable mother-in-law, a sweet, gentle grandma and great grandma, a special aunt and sister-in-law.

Neva had many talents and hobbies. Her pride was a wood shop in her home. Charlie and her made unique and fun gifts for the family. Her true passion was crocheting. She made many gorgeous afghans for her church bazaars. If there was a fundraiser, you could be sure that a beautiful afghan would be donated. She didn't need to personally know the family because Neva had such a kind heart. She put a garden out every year until she was 91 and she didn't like weeds in it either! We all appreciated the canned vegetables at her Sunday dinners of homemade beef and noodles. Neva was like a road atlas, she could tell you every major highway and through which state it took you. She probably had traveled it! She was fortunate to have been able to visit every state in the U.S. and part of Europe. She loved nature, especially birds. If her hands weren't busy, she was enjoying a good book. But mostly, Neva loved her family. She so enjoyed company and all of her grandchildren through the years. Unquestionably, she was a lovely and kind person. We love you Neva and thank you for making our lives happier.

Survivors include:
Daughter, Glenda Lou and John Kobiela of St. Paris, Ohio.
Son, Dennis and Pam Musselman of Kendallville.
11 Grandchildren and 28 Great Grandchildren and 6 Great-Great Grandchildren.
Sisters-in-law, JoAnn Herendeen of Kendallville and Rosetta Leitch of Fostoria, Ohio.

Visitation will be Friday, April 29, 2016 from 5-8:00 pm at Hite Funeral Home in Kendallville.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, April 30, 2016 at 11:00 am at Hite Funeral Home with Rev. Stan Kessler officating.

Burial will be at Lake View Cemetery in Kendallville.

OBITUARY OF KENNETH RUSH LAMPTON

Kenneth Rush Lampton died at his home on April 8, 2008. He was born January 26, 1924 in Hannibal, MO, the son of Ida May (Rush) and Kenneth R. Lampton.

He grew up in Ft. Wayne, IN, attended South Side High School and graduated with distinction from the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, MD in 1945. He served in World War II and the Korean War as a Navy Line Officer.

He was married to Elizabeth Ann (Beth) Green on August 14, 1948 at Trinity Episcopal Church in Ft. Wayne. He is survived by his wife and four children: Kenneth Rush Lampton, Jr. of Denver, CO; Marybeth Long (husband, Patrick) of Holt, MI; Laurel Ann Sutton (husband, Alfred) of Long Island, NY and Michael S. Lampton (wife, Deborah) of Ossian, IN along with 9 grandchildren and 1 great grandson. His sister, Mary K. Milner of Cincinnati, OH, preceded him in death.

Resigning his Navy Commission in 1956, he entered corporate business life. He served as Submersible Motor Product Manager for Franklin Electric Co. in Bluffton, IN for seven years prior to co-founding and serving as President of ETC, Inc. of Ft. Wayne, IN, a Manufacturers Representative Group for Specialty Machine Designers and Builders. He retired in 1989.

Mr. Lampton was a past president of the Fort Wayne Children's Day Care Center and a co-founder of the Wells Community Swim Team serving as its first President. In 1997, he helped form the "Man-to-Man" Prostate Cancer Support Group for the American Cancer Society in Wells County.

His memberships included Bluffton Chapters of the American Legion, original Kiwanis Club, Elks Club, and Parlor City Country Club. He was Patron Member of the Wells County Creative Arts Council, a Sustaining Member of the Caylor Nickel Foundation, Life Member of the Naval Academy Alumni Association, Life member of the South Side High School Alumni Association, Life Member of the Friends of the Library, a Member of the Fort Wayne Friars, and Lifetime member of Trinity Episcopal Church.

A Celebration of Life will be held at Trinity Episcopal Church in Ft. Wayne at 11:00 AM on Saturday, April 12, 2008, with visitation prior to the service in the church lounge beginning at 9:30.

In lieu of flowers, preferred memorials are to: Trinity Episcopal Church Endowment Fund (www.trinity.org), the Creative Arts School of Ballet Endowment Fund through the Wells County Foundation (www.wellscounty.org), or Hospice of Northeast Indiana (www.familyhospiceindiana.com).

Hi Lucy,

go to www.falgen.org/cem and select whatever burying ground you want. Not all have photos of the grave sites but there is a lot of information. When you select each burying ground go to the Alpha Index to see, in alpha order the names of the persons buried there.

There is also a book, now out of print, Vital Records of the Town of Falmouth to 1850 that is available at the Falmouth Public Library. There is a similar book on Barnstable, and all the Cape Towns.

Where are you located? Are you a member of The New England Historical and Genealogical Society in Boston? Have you looked on Ancestry? When did your various lines leave Cape Cod?

Go through the FGS cemetery web, as stated above, and get back to me with some of your questions.

If you are from out of Town are you planning on visiting Falmouth, MA this summer? I can give you a tour of the Old Burying Ground.

Good luck and keep in touch.

Peace,
Donna E. Walcovy

To Whom: June 6,2011

My husband's Green, Fish, Adams and Cottle families were in Falmouth and Barnstable,Mass. early 1700's. I am trying to get information of these families also any church ,marriage, etc.

Can you direct me to someone who can help me ?

I know the earlier ones were buried in the old Burial Ground Cemetery in Falmouth. Wondering if you have anything on this site ?

Any directive would be appreciated,
Thank you ,
Sincerely Lucy Keller Green

Hi Lucy,

I really don't think joining the Falmouth Genealogical Society at $20.00 a year will give you a return on your money. We do very little with members out of state except send out the quarterly newsletter with some articles and a complete description of all our meetings, the folks who are lecturing.

If you are concerned about Fish and Green still living in town I'd go through the White Pages on your computer and pull up those names. You can also contact The Falmouth Historical Society, just google them, there might be some information there.

I think looking thru all the indexes of the cemeteries in Falmouth on the website will give you information.

I'll be gone for a week at a cemetery conference.

Peace,
Donna

Hi Donna,

I live in Ft. Wayne, In. I am trying to finish up my late husbands Green line and want to include his Green's, Cottle's and the Fish families.

What is the cost of your membership in your society ? Do you send out bulletins?
How often? Do you have books for sale and are they online at your site?
I'm hoping there might still be these family lines still on the Cape that I might get in touch with some time.

I'm so full of questions and have the Green's in Manchester,England,I like to branch out to include ties up to present times if possible.

I will check out the info. you sent me and get back to you again.

Thank you so much for answering so quickly.This week has been really hectic with Retired Bible Class every day,we enjoy the class but even more getting things built & ready for our VBS week.

Happy Hunting and God Bless,

More Ways to Search & Browse

Search by Database Title Recently Added Databases Browse by Place

View all Databases Browse by Popular Collection

On this advanced search page you can specify more information about the person that you are searching for.

Not all fields are required. If you enter only a "Family Name" you will get matches for people with that name. If you enter only a "Place" you will get results from that place, which may be a city, county, state, or country.

The more fields that you enter text into, the fewer results that will match your search request.

WorldVitalRecords.com provides 3 types of surname searching. The "Matching Type" option lets you select what type of search you would like to do. The three options are "Exact", "Soundex", and "Double Metaphone."

> "Exact" searches will return results that match the exact spellings that you entered into the Family Name box. If you type in the surname "Smith" you will only get results with the name Smith. The results will not include spelling variations or mis-spellings.
> "Soundex" searches will return search results that match the Soundex variations for the name that you entered into the Family Name box. Soundex is a "phonetic algorithm" that identifies words that sound alike but are spelled differently such as "Smyth" and "Smith" or "Brown" and "Braun." Soundex was developed and patented in the early 1900's by Robert Russell and Margaret Odell.
> "Double Metaphone" searches will return search results that match the Double Metaphone spellings for the name that you entered into the Family Name box. Double Metaphone was developed in 2000 by Lawrence Philips and is the second generation of the "Metaphone" phonetic algorithm. Double Metaphone is superior to Soundex because it understands the basic rules of spelling for English, Slavic, Germanic, Celtic, Greek, French, Italian, Spanish, and Chinese. "Double Metaphone" tends to return more accurate and slightly fewer name variation search results.
> The "Quick Search" Family Name box that appears in the header of each page performs the "Double Metaphone" search. If you prefer to use "Exact" or "Soundex" searches you must use the Advance Search.

If you get zero results, try removing text from the Place, Year, and Keyword fields as the databases may not have that information.

best friend, Drew.
When I talked to his mom she told me what to do,
She said go out there and do it for us and Drew.
I could already hear the roar of the crowd,
As I whispered in her ear, I won't let you down.
Before New Era performed, we had an emotional talk,
About Drew showing God the mighty pimp walk.
We gathered our emotions and made our descent,
To give it our all, one hundred and ten percent.
We performed real well, we did our best,
Now it was up to the judges to do the rest.
I knew we could do it, I knew we'd pull through,` Hey! Could you believe it, we even won best crew.
I got this funny feeling and my eyes got moist,
Then they announced that we won "People's Choice."
We made the night show and I started to cry,
I stood up and yelled, it's all because of this guy.
I pointed to a picture of Drew,
I looked to the sky and said it's all for you.
Some of us laughed; me, I cried,
When we came back to Busco we were full of pride.
New Era came together full of amnesty,
That's when I realized we weren't a group, we were a family.
The courage it took to perform this show,
Is greater than anything you'll ever know.
We'll see Drew again in our final destination to the Comparet family's wishes, New Era performed at the Huntington North Invitational. They did an awesome job and gave everything they had to put on a great show for Drew. New Era won "Best Tech Crew" and got to move on to the finals, but most importantly, they won the "People's Choice" award. There was an enormous outpouring of support not only from the Busco fans, but also from every other school participating. The cheering, clapping, and standing were testaments of the love and support given to our school in this time of sorrow.

Clayton Rollins wrote the following poem about Drew.

Performing at Huntington was hard to do,
New Era came together full of amnesty,
That's when I realized we weren't a group, we were a family.
The courage it took to perform this show,
Is greater than anything you'll ever know.
We'll see Drew again in our final destination,
But right now, he's just on vacation.

This is a very tough time for everyone, but if we all come together and trust in God, He will bring us through this and help us stay strong and heal. Although Drew is no longer with us, his memory will live on forever.

In Memory of Drew Comparet, settlers of that locality. They have had eight children—Melissa, born Marc 13, 1847, now Mrs. Gilbert McDague; Thomas J., born March 11, 1848, die November 10, 1850; Philander A., born August 15, 1849, died November 21 1850; George W., born August 19, 1850; Henry C., January 23, 1852 married Magdalene Treese; Franklin P., born May 3, 1853; James W., Ma 12, 1854, died July 21, 1854; and John C., born October 26, 1856. Mr. Stron is a Democrat; has held several Township offices, and has been a successfu school teacher.

JOHN H. WARD was born in Knox County, Ohio, April 5, 1837. H is one of thirteen children, five only known to be living, born to Jame and Mary Ward. The father of these was a native of Maryland and th mother of Pennsylvania. Mr. Ward was a farmer, and a good man in every respect. He died in 1842, and his widow in 1870. Mrs. Ward was twic married; her second husband, who has since died, was Stephen A. Woodruff Up to the age of eleven years, John H. Ward lived with his mother; he then apprenticed himself for three years, at shoe-making. Subsequently moved to Fredericktown, and worked at his trade until he came to Albion, in 1856, where he worked for his old Fredericktown preceptor until his death. In 1863, he purchased a part of his present farm, which now numbers 160 acres. They moved on the place soon after, and began a life of hard labor, which has been crowned with success, having increased the 160 acres to 240 acres. Mr. Ward has given liberally to the support of all laudable enterprises. He is Democratic, also an active worker against intemperance. He and wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and are highly esteemed people. Mr. Ward's wife was Comfort Edwards, daughter of Alexis Edwards, to whom he was married January 19, 1859. They have had eight children—Marion, Anna, Hattie and Homer E., living; and Alsie A., Mary, Charlie and one unnamed, deceased.

C. J. WEEKS was born in Shelby County, Ohio, in 1826. Thomas Weeks, his father, is yet living on the Weeks family homestead, in Green Township. His mother, Eliza (Henderson) Weeks, died November 18, 1878, beloved by a large circle of friends. Thomas Weeks, in 1829, left the Buckeye State and emigrated to Allen County, Ind., on the Maumee River, near Fort Wayne. The State of Indiana, at that time, was but a partially settled country. Mr. Weeks and family resided in Wayne County until their removal to Noble County, in 1844, since when they have been identified with that county's history. C. J. Weeks was reared in Indiana principally, his education chiefly consisting of hard labor. During his earlier manhood, he worked at the carpenter's trade, but has since confined his attention to farming. He was married, January 15, 1854, to Miss Alma White, and to them were born five children, viz.: Josephine (deceased), Eunice, Thomas, Dillie and Perry. He now owns the old farm, which consists of eighty acres of good land. He is a Democrat, and an honest, upright citizen. His grandfather was a soldier in the war of 1812, and was taken prisoner at Detroit, the time of Hull's surrender. The Weeks family is descended from Irish and English ancestors.

HENRY WINEBRENNER is the only child of Jacob and Catharine (Alabaugh) Winebrenner; he was born in Blair County, Penn., July 4, 1817. When but eight days old his mother died, and he went to live with his grandparents. His father was a shoemaker, and shortly after his wife's death moved to Liberty, Montgomery Co., Ohio. He here married Elizabeth

Descendants of Barnabas VALENTINE

Generation No. 1

1. BARNABAS^1 VALENTINE was born May 11, 1757 in Northern Ireland, and died July 14, 1831 in Hopewell Township, Perry County, Ohio[1,2]. He married JANE UNKNOWN 1783. She was born 1764, and died 1836.

Notes for BARNABAS VALENTINE:

Barnabas Valentine.

The following biography is from a letter written by a great grand daughter of Barnabas, Nancy (Valentine) Brown in her letter of 20 Feb 1918 to her neice Margaret (Valentine)Fisher who was Ruth Janice Barton's grandmother. This biography is the most historical statement of Barnabas' antecedents we are likely to have, though it does appear to have been somewhat restated by R.J.B.

"Great-great-great Grandfather, Barnabas Valentine was born May 11, 1757, in Ireland. His Irish Protestant parents were weavers and bleachers of linen and were owners of a bleaching green.The lived in the Province of Ulster along the Irish Coast of the North Channel.

One day in the year 1771, a ship anchored in the harbor. Most of the crew were sick or had died, so some of those remaining went ashore to try to find replacements. They could get no men but picked up two boys, one twelve and the other, fourteen years of age. The fourteen year old boy was Barnabas Valentine. The boys were coaxed to go aboard to see the ship.They went, but soon discovered they were prisoners.The ship sailed for the United States.The twelve year old boy died at sea, but Barnabas escaped from the ship at Baltimore, Maryland, and stayed hidden until it left.

He enlisted May 10,1777, during the Revolutionary War and served in Captain Robert Sample's Company, 10th Pennsylvania Regiment, Continental Line, commanded by Colonel Richard Humpton, under General Anthony Wayne. He wintered at Valley Forge, 1778-1779, according to records there.Barnabas stated he was transferred to Lamb's Artillery just before the Battle of Monmouth(1778). Lambs Artillery originally form New York was organized in 1777 as Lamb's Continental Artillery Regiment.

Barnabas Valentine married Hannah________, in 1783. She was English. She was born in 1764 and died in 1836. They owned and lived on a farm near Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on which the Bryn Mawr College for Girls is now located. This farm, once known as the Taylor farm, was the boyhood home of their son James Fuhrman Valentine who migrated to Athens County, Ohio. His sister Eleanor acquired possession of the farm.

Barnabas died July 14, 1831."

Barnabas was married to Jane/Hannah Unknown in 1783. This fact is apparently based on the birthdate of his first child.. See Lola Avellar's story of Barnabas, rev'd 29 Dec 86. Jane or Hannah was born in 1764, and died in 1836. In her letter of 1 Jan 96, Ruth Janice Barton states, " In a letter written by Barnabas,Sr's grandaughter, Nancy Brown (James Fuhrman's daughter, dated 20 Feb 1918, she states her grandmother's name was Hannah." Could it have been Hannah Jane ? In a deed executed in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania on the 15th of March 1819, her name is Jane. RJB queries, Could Barnabas have married twice ?

Barnabas first appears in the Tax Records of Mifflin County in 1807. He is in Greenwood Township, and the owner of one cow.
The records are missing for 1808 and through 1810.
In 1811, Barnabas is in Fermanagh Township, and listed as a shoemaker.
He was not found in these records for 1812.
In 1813 he is listed as having one cow and a trade; still in Fermanagh.
In 1814, 1815, and 1816,he is still in Fernamagh, owns 26 acres and has a trade.
In 1817, still in Fermanagh, Barnabas has 27 acres, two cows, and is a weaver.
In 1818 and 1819, still in Fermanagh, Barnabas is shown as owning 27 acres, and is a weaver.
See Ltrs., Mifflin County Historical Society,dtd 31 May 1995 and 20 March 1996.

RJB suggests in her letter of 16 July 1997 that the teen-ager in Barnabas' household in the 1830 Census might have been Barnabas,Jr. This would be entirely possible; I had previously suggested it might be Archibald Nelson Valentine.

There is one lead that has not been pursued. The 1850
Census indicates Sarah Jane(Valentine) Nielly was born in New Jersey. See correspondence with Carol E. Mahan. This would indicate that Barnabas, who was discharged at Princeton, New Jersey in 1783, married there and at least his first eight children were born there. The ninth child, James Fuhrman claimed to have been born in Pittston, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania. The tenth child, Barnabas, Junior was born in Pennsylvania as Barnabas, Senior is shown on the Tax Rolls of Mifflin County in 1807. It is thus indicated that we checkkout New Jersey.

Ita should be noted that New Jersey did not award Revolutionary War Bounty Lands(The Source,257). In 1776 Congress promised bounty land to soldiers of the Continental Line-100 acres to a private. Barnabas would have been elgible as his service was with the 10th Pennsylvania of the Continental Line and later with the 2nd Continental Artillery. However this bounty land was available only in the U.S. Military District of Ohio and this area was not opened until 1796. An act in 1788 made warrants assignable-meaning the soldier could sell his warrant.It has been reported fewer than fewer than one in ten took the land.(The Source, 258).

At the moment, it would seem Barnabas received no benefits from his military service until he reached Mifflin County, Pennsylvania-possibly as late as 1807. His depreciation pay was escheated to the state in 1787-indicating he was not aware of it. In 1816 he was awarded a Pennsylvania annuity of $40. In 1818 he got his federal pension of $96. In 1830 his son James F. petitioned Congress for his land bounty. I have not yet determined if James F. ever received it.

Jane or Hannah ?
In her letter of 1/1/96, Ruth Janice Barton states," In a letter written by Barnabas ,Sr's granddaughter, Nancy

Ohio and this area was not opened until 1790. An act in 1788 made warrants assignable meaning the soldier could sell his warrant. It has been estimated fewer than 1 of 100, one in ten took the land. (The Source, 2nd

At the moment, it would seem Hermanus received no benefits from his military service until he received Mifflin County, Pennsylvania pension as early as 1807. His Pennsylvania pay was discovered in invoices in 1822 indicating he was not aware of it. In 1818 he was awarded a Pennsylvania annuity of $40. In 1818 he got his federal pension of $96. In 1830 his son James P. petitioned Congress for his land bounty. I have not yet determined if James P. ever received it.

7. MARY ANN^3 VALENTINE (JOHN^2, BARNABAS^1) was born August 13, 1819 in Rush Creek Township, Fairfield County, Ohio, and died September 13, 1888 in Allen County, Ohio. She married (1) JEREMIAH HILYARD March 14, 1839 in Lancaster, Fairfield County, Ohio. He was born December 28, 1816 in Pennsylvania or New Jersey, and died April 02, 1855 in Allen County, Ohio. She married (2) SAMUEL NEELY January 20, 1856 in Allen County, Ohio.

Notes for MARY ANN VALENTINE:
In Valentine Newsletter # 26, reports information received from John Burnett of Delphos, Ohio:

" In 1840 Jeremiah Hilyard and Mary Ann were living next door to Nancy Valentine with 3 males and 3 females in her (Nancy's) household at Rush Creek, Fairfield County, Ohio. Possibly the mother of Mary Ann." This was later established, See Jerimiah Hilyard.

See also Valentine Newsletter #31.

Mary Ann's second spouse was Samuel Neeley, whom I cannot identify. The only Samuel Neeley I can find was born in 1863 to John P, and Mary(Barr) Neeley. This Samuel obviously could not have married Mary Ann in 1856. See Neeley family history.

More About MARY ANN VALENTINE:
Fact 1: 1888, Allentown Cemetery, Allen County, Ohio

Notes for JEREMIAH HILYARD:
John Burnett is the authority for the Jeremiah Hilyard-Mary Ann Valentine Family.

Jeremiah was son of Thomas Hilyard, who in 1840 was living in Rush Creek Township, Fairfield County. Valentine Newsletter #31.

Valentine Newsletter # 26, quoting John Burnett.

On the Hilyard Family Website created and maintained by Vonda Heverly, I gleaned the following additional information:

Jeremiah purchased land in Allen County in 1849, but he did not immediately move onto this property. He was still in Fairfield County at the time of the 1850
Census.He died in the spring of 1855 and was buried in the Allentown Cemetery.

Mary Ann with eight children, married a very young Samuel Neeley- he was only eighteen-in 1856.The family was in the 1860 Census, and Mary Ann was identified as the landowner.

In the 1880 Census. Mary Ann was a widow,living alone, near her sons, Ephraim and John. When Mary Ann died,September 13,1888, she was buried next to Jeremiah at Allentown, and her tombstone identifies her as Mary Ann Hilyard.

viii. EPHRAM HILYARD, b. June 02, 1854.

8. JOHN NEELY^3 VALENTINE (JOHN^2, BARNABAS^1) was born July 07, 1821 in Rush Creek Township, Fairfield County, Ohio, and died February 20, 1903 in Lushton, York County, Nebraska. He married (1) MARIAH JANE MADISON February 13, 1848 in Fairfield County,Ohio[32]. She was born February 18, 1818[33], and died March 18, 1859 in probably Fairfield County,Ohio[33]. He married (2) HANNAH GROFF January 25, 1861 in Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio. She was born March 31, 1836 in presumably Harrison Township, Champaign County, Ohio, and died March 19, 1903 in Lushton, York County, Nebraska.

Notes for JOHN NEELY VALENTINE:

See Ltr., from RJB, 30 Apr 96.

Susan Norris Bergin furnished me with information on John Neely Valentine as did Paul Valentine.

Susan advised me of the move to Monticello, Illinois. She sent me the names of the children, but for the first marriage only.

John Neely Valentine would be a half brother to my great grandfather, Archibald Nelson Valentine. John was born in 1821 and Archibald in 1815.

Ltr., John H. Valentine, postmarked 1 Apr 97 shows birthdate of 7 Jul 1821. John also ties John Neeley's birth to Bremen (Fairfield County) Ohio

John Neeley Valentine's obituary is worth quoting. See Correspondece Notebook for John H. Valentine.

" THE TELLER

York, Nebraska, Wed. March 4, 1903

OBITUARY

John N. Valentine was born July 7, 1821 in Fairfield County, Ohio, was married to Mrs. Mariah J. Morris, Febr. 13, 1848, who died March 15,1859 leaving him with 5 small children. He was married to Hannah S. Grove July 25, 1861. Six children were born to them. One died in infancy. He moved to Piatt County, Ill. in 1866 where he resided till March 1882, when he came to York Co.Nebr. where he has since resided except a period of two years in Seward County. Died Feb.20, 1903 at his farm near Lushton, age 81 years 7mo.13 da.. Leaves his wife an 10 children surviving him. Mr. Valentine was a devoted husband and a loving father and was loved and respected by all who knew him and will be greatly missed by relatives and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

To the neighbors & Friends, who so kindly assisted us in the last sickness & death of our beloved husband and father, we express our sincere and heartfelt thanks. Hannah S. Valentine & children. "

RJB suggests in her letter of 16 July 1997 that Nancy, John's mother, had three of his children in her household in 1860. They would be Eveline (10), Laura Ann(9),and Sarah (5). The ages of the four children in the 1860 Census, Evaline(10), Laura Ann(9), William H. (8), and Sarah Suffrona(5) would fit the first marriage of John Neely and Mariah Jane Morris; also the date of her death, 1859.

However, Emaline was identified as Emaline Neely in the 1850 Census, and Evelyn E. in the 1860 Census. This suggests Neely was her surname and not just a middle name. This would still leave as posslble children of John Neely, Laura Ann, William H., and and Sarah S., except that Sarah S. is identified as Sarah S. Mills in her affidavit of 1907and she states she is the daughter of John and Nancy (Neely)McCrory Valentine. The affidavit is with SNB's letter of 18 Sept 97.

Fact 4: York County
Residence: 1850, Amanda, Fairfield County,Ohio[35]

Notes for MARIAH JANE MADISON:

Beatrice Valentine in her letter of 4 October 1990 reports Mariah Jane(Madison) Morris, widow of James Morris, married John Neely Valentine, 13 Feb 1848.

Norris Bergen suggests maiden name may have been Friend.See her 1983 Letter.le (LDS) identifies Mariah Jane Friend as spouse of John Nealy Valentine; also her parents.

Nancy (Neeley) McCrory-Valentine, mentions in her will , a grandson, William Morris, who is almost certainly the child of James Morris and her daughter-in-law, Mariah Jane (Madison)Morris-Valentine, first spouse of John Neeley Valentine.

Was Mariah's maiden name Friend or Madison? SNB apparently came up with the name Madison-must query her. Note difference in birth dates. See her ltr of June 28,1997.

Notes for HANNAH GROFF:
Per RJB

Per RJB

Hannah's maiden name was reported as Grove in John Neeley Valentine's obituary published in The Teller of York, Nebraska.But he also used the name Groff.

There seems to be a conflict in marriage dates.John H. Valentine reports marriage date to be 25 July 1861. SNB reports marriage date to be 25 January 1861 at Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio.

Marriage Notes for JOHN VALENTINE and HANNAH GROFF:
The Genealogy of John Neely Valentine shows he married Hannah S. Grove on July 25, 1861. Was the name Grove or Groff ?

Notes for MARIAH JANE FRIEND:
According to the Ancestral File (LDS) at the local FHC, Mariah J. Friend was married to to a "Morris" abt 1847 in Ohio. Her parents were Cornelius Ward Friend and Sarah Alice Kemp.

This information was submitted by

Gladys M. Cashdollar
8701 Mesa Road,
Santee, CA 92071

Was Mariah J.'s maiden name Friend or Madison ? The name Madison seems to have come from SNB. Must query her.

BV reported in her letter of 4 Oct 90, that John Neely Valentine's first wife was Mariah Jane (Madison) Morris, widow of James Morris.

John H. Valentine (Arthur, Nebraska) shows that John Neely Valentine married Mariah Morris, 13 February

1848 at Champaign County, Ohio. He shows Mariah to have been born 13 March 1836 at Lushton, Nebraska. I question the birthplace as John Neely didn't movea to Nebraska until 1882.

John H. Valentine suggests, " Mariah (Friend?) Morris was married to James Morris who died in 1844. They had two children: Elizabeth,bc 1843 and James b. about 1844. He left no will and there was no estate to probate. This information taken from Courthouse records and Census records with indefinite dates."

She married ANDREW BROWN April 23, 1863 in Union Countay, Ohio[46], son of ADAM BROWN and MARY JOLLEY. He was born March 28, 1841 in Darby Township, Union County, Ohio[46], and died April 21, 1915 in Darby Townshio, Union County, Ohio[47].

Notes for NANCY ALMIRA VALENTINE:
Nancy Valentine.
Lola Avellar in her letter of December, 1985, mentions Nancy Valentine Brown's Bible as a source of information about Barnabas. It's present location is a little ambiguous- she says it is in the Ohio State Library Archives, Custodian of the Public Records, at Pennsylvania State Library, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. I guess the Bible is at the Ohio State Archives, and it is the Barnabas' military records that are at the Pennsylvania State Library.(now,1995, I realize I have been misinterpreting what Lola wrote in the above letter. She did not mean that the Bible was in the custody of one of the above mentioned organizations but that the Bible and those entities were the sources of information for her Valentine Genealogy. Ten years!

Mrs. Clapp in her Valentine Genealogy reports Nancy had five children, and lived at Unionville Center, Ohio.

Nancy (1845-1928)is most likely the source of the Barnabas story as we know it. There is a direct line of oral history from Barnabas to James Furhman to Nancy.
Barnabas spent the last years of his life with or near James Fuhrman. See the 1830 Census for Hopewell Township, Perry County. Note, too that in 1831, James F. was pursuing Barnabas' land claim with the War Department. In 1845 he filed a survivor's claim based on Barnabas' service. These two facts establish that James F. came into possession of Barnabas' papers. Thus we have a direct line from Nancy to her father and grandfather as the basis for the letter written in 1918.

Nancy also seems to have had the family Bible. Her genealogy of the family would seem to have been made from this Bible. This Bible was made available to descendants of JFV in 1924 by Fred F. Brown , Nancy's son. Fred was also from Unionville Center, Ohio. See " Maternal Lineage of Ruth Janice Barton".

Georgia Morgan cites a document from the Probate Court for Union County at Marysville, Ohio :

" Consent to Marry, 20 April 1863
Admit you to issue a licence to David M. (Mitchell) Robinson, for Nancy Almira Valentine and Andrew Brown to be married." Signed, James F. Valentine "Consent to daughters marriage."

Nancy Almira Valentine is also the great grandmother of Julianne Marzluf of Sun City, Arizona-according to Jeanne Westenberg.

More About NANCY ALMIRA VALENTINE:
Fact 4: Unionville Center, Ohio

Notes for ANDREW BROWN:
Georgia Morgan reports, " Assessor of Union County, Ohio, member of school board, Home Guards in Civil War. Inherited fathera's farm. Siblings died young, unmarried.Andrew and Nancy were buried in Old Mitchell Cemetery, Union County, Ohio. He was buraied 23 April 1915. 32nd Degree Mason."

Georgia Morgan has also furnished me with a copy of Andrew's obituary. Also a newspaper account of the probate of Andrew's will, and a plat map showing parcels owned by Andrew and Adam Brown.

Descendants of Barnabas VALENTINE

18. JR JAMES FUHRMAN^3 VALENTINE,JUNIOR (JAMES FUHRMAN^2, BARNABAS^1) was born August 30, 1829 in Hopewell Township, Perry County, Ohio, and died September 11, 1884 in Near Columbus, Ohio. He married (2) ELIZABETH ANNA CHARLOTTE LATTIMER 1853. She was born April 15, 1832 in Athens County, Ohio, and died November 17, 1889 in Payne, Benton Township, Paulding Cty, Ohio.

Notes for JR JAMES FUHRMAN VALENTINE,JUNIOR:
James Fuhrman Valentine, Jr.
Lola Avellar, in her Valentine Genealogy says of Elizabeth and Janes :
"Elizabeth's parents had a farm in Athens County, Ohio. After she and James were married and had four children, they traveled by covered wagon to Wisconsin. They lived there twenty years or more. Her father died and was buried in Wisconsin.
Elizabeth took sick and wanted to go back to Troy, Ohio.They started back and got as far as Payne, Ohio. Here they made another clearing, built another log cabin, and remained the rest of their lives. She and her husband died there, and were buried in Lehman Cemetery, a little south and west of Payne, Ohio.

Ruth Janice Barton writes in her letter of 16 July 1997, " James ,Jr. migrated to Wisconsin between 1864 (when he came home from the War) and 1866. His last two children, William Wesley and Margaret Charlotte (my grandmother) were born there in 1867 & 1871. My grandmother said she was 7n when they returned. So they must have returned to Ohio about 1878."

Note that James' family could not have departed for Wisconsin before 1960, the birth year of Alice Alfaretta, their fourth child. James would have been 31 years old.If they spent twenty-plus years in Wisconsin, he would have been at least 51 when they reached Payne, Ohio. As he was only 55 when he died in 1884, he had only a few years in Payne.

See Lola's ltr of 3 Jan 1989 for 1860 Census.

Beatrice Valentine reports, in her letter of 24 Apr 1989, that their is a James Fuhrman Valentine in the 1880 Census for Benton Township, Paulding County, Ohio.His wife and children are identified as :

Elizabeth, age 48 and born in Ohio

Mary Ann, age 23 and born in Ohio in 1857
Frances, age 21 and born in Ohio in 1858
Viola, age 15, and " " " " 1865
William age 13, and " " Wisconsin in 1867

Nancy age 18, and " " Ohio " 1862

James F.'s birth and death dates per L.A.,Dec 85.

James Fuhrman Valentine, Jr.
Dates of birth and death per Lola Avellar, her letter of December, 1985.

17. JUNIOR JAMES FUHRMAN[3] VALENTINE (JAMES FUHRMAN[2], BARNABAS[1]) was born August 30, 1829 in Hopewell Township, Perry County, Ohio, and died September 11, 1884 in near Columbus, Ohio. He married ELIZABETH ANNA CHARLOTTE LATTIMER 1853. She was born April 15, 1832 in Athens County, Ohio, and died November 17, 1889 in Payne, Benton Township, Paulding Cty, Ohio.

Notes for JUNIOR JAMES FUHRMAN VALENTINE:
1. After his marriage to Elizabeth A.C. Lattimer in 1853, James,Jr. seems to have lived in Jerome Township, Union County for some time. His first son James Archibald was born there.He is there in the 1860 Census. The last child to be born in Ohio before departing for Wisconsin was Viola Jeanette, born in 1865.

2.In 1867, a son , William Wesley is born in Wisconsin. This most likely establishes the date of the move by covered wagon to the LaFarge-Viroqua area of Wisconsin. (See Ltr.,from Mrs. Clapp, dated 30 Jan 89). James and his family had apparently travelled with his in-laws as Lola Avellar reports that Elizabeth's father died there . Mrs. Clapp reports he is buried in the Dell Cemetery there.The LaFarge-Viroqua area is in Vernon County.

Lola reports further, " Elizabeth took sick and wanted to go back to Troy, Ohio. They started back and got as far as Payne, Ohio. Here they made another clearing, built another log cabin, and remained there the rest of their lives.They were buried in the Lehman Cemetery, a little south and west of Payne, Ohio". They were back in Ohio for the 1880 Census for Benton Township, Paulding County.

3. Gloria M. Fast of Haviland , Ohio advised in her letter of 5 Apr 95 that there four Valentines in the Lehman Cemetery :

James Fuhrman, Jr. 1829-1884
Elizabeth Anna Charlotte 1832-1882
James Archibald 1854-1885
William Wesley 1867-1886

4.Gloria also included information of eight marriages involving Valentines between 1879 and 1890. At least four involved children of James Fuhrman, Jr.

5. Gloria also reported that according to Cemetery records, James Fuhrman was a Civil War veteran, having served with Company B, 136th Ohio Volunteer Infantry. The official roster shows he enlisted at the age of 24 and served from 2 May 1864 to 31 Aug 1864. Another document from the official " Graves Registration Cards" attributes the above military service to James F., born 28 Mar 1806 in Pennsylvania, an obvious error.

RJB reports (1/1/96) that JFV,Jr ," Suffered a leg injury and was sent home with a permanent disability...he limped the rest of his life."

1860 Cesus data is from Lola Avellar's letter of3 Jan 89.

Data for 1880 Census is from B.V., her ltr dtd 24 Apr 89.

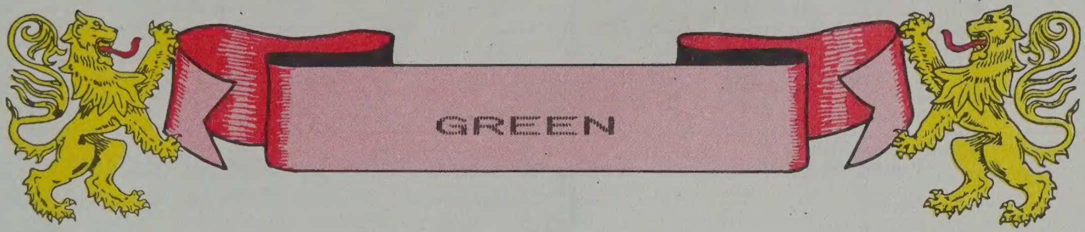
The Story of Our Name



The surname GREEN, like many other family names, originated in medieval times in England as a simple description of an individual as a means of better identification. Prior to that time, a person was known only by the single name which was given him at birth. However, as the population of the towns and villages of England increased, it became necessary to distinguish one man named John (or William or Thomas) from others with the same name, and so, a descriptive word or phrase would be given to each.

There were four major sources from which these additional names arose: the names of Places, the person's Occupation, a descriptive Nickname, and Baptismal, that is, from the name of the father. Of these, the name GREEN began as a Place Name and was used to further identify one who lived at, or near, the village green or other grassy ground.

CLASSIFICATION OF ORIGIN Place Name	COUNTRY OF ORIGIN England
MEANING OF NAME One who lived at, or near, the village green or other grassy ground
VARIANT SPELLINGS GREENE AND GREENFIELD	APPROXIMATE U.S. POPULATION 588,400
FOREIGN EQUIVALENTS LoVerde (Italian) and Greenwald (German)	RANK IN SIZE (U.S.A.) (SMITH = #1) 36th

In the beginning, the name GREEN belonged only to the person it described. Generations later however, it became hereditary and was passed down from a father to his children to become their family name.

Variants are names with the same meaning, but spelled differently. Like most names, GREEN has undergone some change since it originated and has also been spelled GREENE AND GREENFIELD.

Names often have equivalents in the languages of other nations. If born in another country, instead of GREEN, the family name would have been spelled LoVerde (Italian) and Greenwald (German).

The most recent official records released by the Government show that from these humble beginnings, today there are about 588,400 people named GREEN in the nation, and it's the 36th most populous name.
